

Wayne County 4-H Fair Closes "Best Ever" Run Here

BELLEVILLE — The 1968 Wayne County 4-H Fair drew the largest attendance in its history, Wayne County 4-H Fair Association officials reported Monday.

The 4-H Fair, termed by Association President Robert L. Hayward, as the "best ever" was held Aug. 13 - 18 at the 4-H Fairgrounds, located at Quirk road, north of Belleville and just off the I-94 Expressway.

"We had the largest attendance, the most exhibits in both 4-H presentations and open class competition," Hayward said, "and the least trouble with events and crowds," he added.

During the seven-day run, 50,000 persons attended the Fair's many exhibits and participated in Midway activities and other programs. This is an increase of 10,000 over the 1967 Fair.

The 4-H Fair was kicked-off with an enthusiastic parade down Belleville's Main street from Five Points, thence to the Fairgrounds.

The Fair programs officially got underway on Tuesday, Aug. 13. A Children's Pet Show that was revived this year drew numerous entries. The Fair closed Sunday with a Special Horse Show that broke entry records and attendance. There were 275 horses entered in the show, the largest number of entries in any one event.

The number of meals served at the Fair broke all records, Hayward reported. In the Merchants Building at the Fair, area merchants displayed their wares and local civic and service organizations erected booths that enjoyed activity over that of last year.

Fair officials through the Enterprise-Roman issued sincere thanks and appreciation to all the "good" merchants who participated in the Fair, to Van Buren Township Police Department, to Wayne County Sheriff Department and Van Buren Township Fire Department for their cooperation and assistance.

Hayward offered apologies for the low spots in the Fair's parking lot that brought about muddy conditions toward the end of the Fair's run. He stated that the condition would be corrected before future showings at the Fairgrounds.

R. Merrill Bird, co-chairman of 4-H Fair programs along with Carl W. Morris, stated:

"With the success of this year's Fair, a number of improvements are in the making for future years to keep pace with the ever-growing interest in 4-H in Wayne County."

Robert Paulson, Wayne County 4-H Agent, who has resigned his post to accept a similar position with the Washtenaw Community College's Agriculture Department was presented several appreciation and good-bye gifts Saturday by 4-H Fair Association officials and others.

NOW UP TO TEACHERS

School Officials, Association Reached Contract Terms

BELLEVILLE — Negotiating teams for the Van Buren Township Board of Education and the Van Buren Education Association have agreed on terms of a new teachers' employment contract for the 1968-69 school year, it was disclosed.

The proposed terms of the contract that will cover some 300 teachers represented by the Association is subject to a ratification by the teachers who are to attend a scheduled ratification meeting Wednesday Aug. 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Belleville High School cafeteria.

Both Dale E. Kaulitz, school superintendent, and Kenneth Askew, chief negotiator for the VBEA have announced that negotiations on the new school year contract concluded last Thursday.

ASKEW REPORTED that he will report the results of negotiating sessions to the teachers without recommendations of commendation.

"It is their contract and they are to be the Judges," he stated.

In Thursday's session, a School Board proposal on increase class size was dropped as it had been proposed when cutbacks (since restored) had been ordered.

A proposal by the Association for an Agency Shop — financial responsibility for all teachers in sharing negotiating contract costs and other expenses — was rejected by the School Board.

A LIFE INSURANCE benefit (teachers presently do not have any) requested by the Association in addition to their Blue Cross and Blue Shield Insurance and Income Protection Insurance was agreed upon. Although not in the amount desired by the Association. But as one Association's negotiator commented "it is a step in the right direction."

Salary schedules agreed upon by the negotiators will also be up for ratification.

THE 10-STEP salary range for teachers with Bachelor of Arts Degrees is $6,800 to $10,740. And for those teachers with Master of Arts Degrees $7,400 to $11,880.

This is an increase of $800 at the start to $900 at the top for BA's and an increase of $800 to $1,060 at the top for MA's.

A request to the Michigan Education Association for sanctions against the school district and for action against the district on possible violation of the State Teachers' Tenure Act filed during negotiations that followed cutbacks in programs, has been dropped at this time, Askew reported.

Wegienka Requests Aug. 5 Vote Recount

ROMULUS — Norbert Wegienka of 13702 Harrison Road, incumbent on the Romulus Township Board of Trustees, who was defeated in his bid for re-election petitioned last week for a recount.

Returns in the Aug. 5 primary election gave Wegienka a total of 548 votes. He ran third in a list of ten candidates who sought to fill two expiring four-year terms. A total of 2,689 persons cast ballots out of a registered vote list of 6,451.

Alfred J. Perry, township clerk, announced that Wegienka filed his petition for recount along with the required $5 fee for each precinct. There are nine precincts in the township.

WAYNE COUNTY Board of Canvassers are presently arranging the necessary machinery and personnel to conduct the recount.

Winners of the Aug. 5

primary election, based on reported returns are Jimmie Raspberry, incumbent.

Huron Township Summoned To Court on River Pollution

NEW BOSTON — The Michigan Water Resources Commission has instituted court action to get compliance of its order to Huron Township officials calling for a stop to pollution of the Huron River.

The action was started by Michigan's Attorney Frank J. Kelley in Wayne County Circuit Court for the commission.

Circuit Court Judge Harry J. Dingeman issued a show cause order against township administration.

A hearing on the show cause summons served on Huron Township Supervisor George Angel is to be heard Friday, Aug. 23.

Township voters in a referendum election May 6, defeated two Contract Propositions for the construction of a $4,050,000 sewer program that would have, according to officials,

GEORGE ANGEL

alleviated the pollution of the Huron River, drains, streams and rivers of the township.

The court action by the commission asked that a judgment be entered demanding and ordering the defendant (township) to cease and desist from continuing to pollute the water of the Huron River and from discharging sewage and waste therein or permitting them to be discharged therein directly or indirectly.

It also asked that the township be ordered to comply with the requirement of the final order of determination issued by the Water Resources Commission on Jan. 19, 1967, and in pursuant thereof be ordered to take necessary steps for and to proceed with the construction and operation of treatment facilities, necessary collecting and interceptor sewers and appurtenances in accordance with time schedule to be determined by the court.

Reductions Include Athletic Activities

Millage Defeat Brings Action By School Administrators

By HENRY CANTIN
ANP Staff Writer

ROMULUS — A series of cutbacks in educational programs and athletic activities in Romulus Community Schools for the 1968-69 school year were approved by the Romulus Township Board of Education Aug. 12.

The reductions in program and services approved by the School Board were recommended by School Superintendent Robert L. McConegny after numerous meetings and conferences with administrative aides.

Rejection by the school district voters of a Millage Proposition in the June 10 School Election prompted school officials to make a minute appraisal of school operations for the coming school year of a school system currently on deficit financing.

The School Board sought a mill hike of three (3) mills for only the 1968 school year and a five (5) mill levy for a five year period beginning with the 1969 school year. The voters turned down both requests.

Art, physical education, music in the elementary schools were eliminated as well as all competitive athletics at the Junior High level.

In the high school, athletics have been reduced to varsity football, varsity basketball, varsity track and varsity baseball.

All reserve and freshman athletic teams and coaches, including varsity tennis, varsity wrestling and cross country have also been cut.

FIELD TRIPS are eliminated in secondary schools and only one field trip per class is authorized per elementary school.

The curtailment of athletic programs in the high school bring a savings of $12,000 and in the junior high, $5,000.

WAS CHOIR DIRECTOR

Hazzard Resigns High School Staff

BELLEVILLE — Richard W. Hazzard, choir director at Belleville High School since 1965, has resigned effective Aug. 28.

Hazzard, who was well liked by students and termed by some area families as one of the leading high school choir directors, is leaving to accept directorship of the music department of Greenville Michigan Public Schools.

During his stay at Belleville High, Hazzard has trained some 300 students and choirs that have placed high in various musical programs and activities in high school circles throughout Michigan.

HE LEAVES behind a Mixed Concert Choir, a Girls Concert Choir, both active in school and civic programs and the start of a Boys Concert Choir.

An Ensemble Choir also under his direction, performed in many school programs and before community groups and organizations.

Hazzard, who is married, started out as a band man when in school. Later when half-way through college at University of Michigan, where he graduated, he switched to teaching music.

Prior to joining up with the

Wayne County to Vote on Home Rule Charter Nov. 5

Wayne County voters, who nominated candidates for the new 26-member County Board of Supervisors in the Aug. 6 primary election, will ballot on nominees for another new county body — a charter commission — in the Nov. 5 general election.

Partisan nomination of two charter commission candidates from each of 35 districts will be on the ballot in tandem with a question asking the voters if they wish to establish a commission to draw up a county home rule charter.

If a majority votes against establishing a charter commission, the nomination of commission candidates will be void. But if the vote is in favor of a charter commission, a run-off election to select the commissioners is likely to be held early next year.

THE COUNTY home rule question was put on the ballot by the County Board of Supervisors to evaluate the Michigan County Home Rule Act of 1966 to determine whether home rule could improve Wayne County government.

The Committee of 99 concluded that significant improvements are possible under the state home rule act, and recommended that the Board of Supervisors put the home rule question before the voters "as soon as practicable."

Home rule would give the voters of Wayne County greater latitude than they have now to determine the structure and functions of their county government, within the limits (see HOME RULE page 2)

David Willett Named ANP General Manager

WAYNE — Associated Newspapers, Inc., publisher of six weekly newspapers in Western Wayne County and Livingston County, has announced appointment of David J. Willett, 25, to general manager of the corporation.

ANP publishes the Wayne Eagle, Westland Eagle, Garden City Guardian-Review, Inkster Ledger-Star, Belleville Enterprise-Roman and the Livingston County Press in Howell, Mich. The papers have a combined paid circulation of 50,000.

In addition to the newspaper chain, ANP has two subsidiary printing companies, Livingston County Printing Co. and Wayne Graphics.

Willett will oversee all editorial, production, advertising and commercial printing activities of the corporation.

He follows the path of his father, Wesley F. Willett, into the publishing profession. The elder Willett and Ray G. Clift are co-publishers of Associated Newspapers.

Prior to assuming corporation general manager duties, Willett was general manager of the firm's Howell printing and publishing activities.

The general managership had been unfilled since Russ Durham left the post in early 1967 after purchasing the Herald-Advertiser Newspapers in River Rouge. Appointment of David Willett to the post will allow publishers Clift and Willett to devote more time to corporate-level problems, relieving them of many day-to-day managerial duties.

The younger Willett began his association with the newspaper chain early, covering sports activities as a reporter while in junior high, then doing photography and occasional writing assignments while in high school. While a junior at Wayne Memorial High he filed a photo-feature story after sailing on an eight-day cruise aboard a U.S. Navy destroyer.

The Willetts lived several miles outside Wayne at the time, and the new GM recalled walking down to the office each night rather than taking the bus home from school, and "listening and watching and listening some more" as the staff produced the Wayne Eagle.

After graduation from WMHS in 1961, Willett attended Henry Ford and San Mateo junior colleges. He returned to Michigan from California in 1962 from a job in the engineering department of Hussian Refrigeration Co. to manage the Howell operation three years after its purchase by ANP.

In the spring of this year he began commuting to Wayne several days a week to assist in management of the firm's Wayne County activities.

David, his wife, Donna, and 20-month-old son, Douglas, presently live in Howell, but he has maintained his association with the Wayne area which began while he was in school. A member of the Howell Rotary Club, he frequently attends meetings in Wayne and Westland.

He is vice-president and past director of the Howell Jaycees, and participated in fund-raising drives for the United Fund, the Walnut St. Methodist Church in Howell and for Junior Achievement. He was also on a committee leading a drive to establish a community college in Livingston County.

He is presently serving a two-year term on the board of the Howell Chamber of Commerce.

Membership in the Adercraft Club of Detroit and the Michigan Press Association are among his professional affiliations.

Completes Class

BELLEVILLE — Marine Private Duncan T. Wilkie, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew G. Wilkie of 22033 Martinsville Road, has completed the 320-hour Aviation Structural Mechanic Hydraulics School at the Naval Air Technical Training Center in Memphis, Tenn.

The school covers basic hydraulic system operations, troubleshooting and maintenance, as well as stability and control of aircraft, safety precautions and inspection of landing gear.

PROGRAM CUTS

Field trip cuts mean a savings of $4,000.

The Capital Outlay Budget has been reduced $17,900 with the major reduction being on furniture and equipment. Maintenance of Plant cut $9,000 by no vehicle replacements planned this year, McConeghy said.

HE ALSO disclosed that the total instruction budget cut of $112,420 has been made and approved. They are:

Staff reduction and reassignments down $125,310; textbooks and teaching supplies down $7,750; Library Books and Supplies down $2,470; Audio-Visual Materials down $2,340; Office Supplies down $940; and Travel Expenses and Mileage down, $670.

The total instruction budget cut of $112,420 is reported after earned salary increments are included.

In his petition for a recount, Wegienka complained that in certain Precincts votes cast for him may have been credited to his opponents and votes cast for his opponents may have been cast for him.

Also that in certain Precincts, the numbers were not correctly reported from the machine totals to the tally books, and other election documents; that in certain precincts, numbers were transposed, and incorrectly added, and other mechanical errors and computations were made, which, if corrected, would change the result of the election and that certain absentee ballots were incorrectly opened, handled, and counted, and the ballots which were rejected were done so improperly.

The school system has already borrowed $300,000 from state aid loan fund and has made an application to the Michigan Finance Commission to borrow $750,000 on anticipated tax revenue. The school district borrowed $600,000 during the 1967-68 school year and is now repaying this loan.

Staff adjustments in both the senior and junior high schools have been made to meet commitments for 200 teachers as compared to 220 teachers last year.

McConeghy disclosed that he is considering offers by staff members to volunteer their services for some sport activities.

Van Buren Public Schools, he taught elementary music in the Wayne Community School District.

HE DISCLOSED that he had submitted his resignation following the spring millage election defeat.

The School Board had ordered cuts in school programs and educational services. Arts and music programs were included.

Hazzard sold insurance for awhile. The ordered cutbacks were restored after Hazzard accepted his new position.

HOME RULE

of the state home rule act. At present, virtually all aspects of county government are determined by the State Legislature.

ADOPTION OF county home rule would have no effect on local governments within the county.

Under the home rule act, the charter could establish a legislative body (county commission) of 5 to 35 members elected from equal population districts on partisan basis. The home rule act also provides for an elected county executive, a "county mayor," a post that does not exist at present.

Home rule, according to the Committee of 99, would also give the county greater latitude in service arrangements with local communities and in revamping what was described as a "maze" of county boards and commissions.

THE 35 DISTRICTS for the charter commission were drawn by the same special five-member Apportionment Commission which drew the districts for the 26-district Board of Supervisors, which will be elected Nov. 5 and take office Jan. 1.

The Apportionment Commission consisted of three elected county officials — the Clerk, Prosecuting Attorney and Treasurer — and the county chairman of the Democratic and Republican parties.

The commission adopted the 35-district plan for the charter commission at the suggestion of the present Board of Supervisors.

Members of the county board from outside Detroit came up with the plan after expressing disappointment with the commission's 26-district plan for the new Board of Supervisors.

Van Buren School Board Sets Millage

BELLEVILLE — A Total mill levy of 24.9 mills for operations of the Van Buren Township Public School System during the 1968-69 school year was officially set and approved by the Van Buren Township Board of Education in a special meeting Monday night.

The millage includes the recent increase of five and one-half mills approved by the voters Aug. 5, Charles W. Bole, president of the School Board announced.

The 24.9 mills is on each $1,000 of assessed valuation property valuation as finally state equalized also includes and is strictly for school operation.

THE SCHOOL BOARD reduced by .15 mill the debt retirement levy to 3.85 mills due to an increase in school district's property valuation.

The 3.65 mill levy is used for retirement of approximately $6,500,000 in bonds issued for building and site procurement fund, James Egan, business manager of Van Buren Schools, reported.

The millage approved is based on a school district property valuation of $125,125,952 and reported by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation.

The music for the parade was provided by the Detroit Edison's Calliope.

A float telling the meaning of the 4-H and its projects was designed by the Cherry Hill 4-H Club of Plymouth.

The Mustangs 4-H Club of Belleville designed a float representing the dog project and also had a horse unit. The Plymouth Livestock 4-H Club designed a float to represent the horticulture and vegetable projects of 4-H. The Rondo Raiders 4-H Club Horse Unit and another horse unit representing the horse project, the Trailblazers 4-H Club, were also in the parade.

Winners of trophies in the Wayne County 4-H Fair Parade are as follows:

SAYS ATTORNEY

Romulus Can Have Violation Bureau

ROMULUS — An inquiry initiated by Romulus Township Clerk Alfred J. Perry on the possibilities of Romulus creating its own Traffic Bureau after the effective date (Jan. 1, 1969) of the District Court Act ended with an approving nod.

John E. Young, attorney for the township, in a legal opinion recommended that Romulus Township establish a parking violation bureau and provide for a courtroom, judge's chambers and other facilities for the court in the program of the newly created Romulus Building Authority.

Perry's inquiry was based on Incorporation Proposition facing Romulus Township voters in the November general election. And the abolishment of the Justice of the Peace Office on Dec. 31, 1968.

Young cited provisions under the new District Court Act in which the state is divided into 99 judicial districts pointed out that the 34th District embraces Romulus as well as Sumpter, Van Buren and Huron Townships and the City of Belleville, a third class district with one judge.

In the 34th District, the expenses of the court will be apportioned among the District control units on a population basis until Jan. 1, 1970 and thereafter expenses will be apportioned on the basis of the number of cases commenced in each district control unit.

Schools Appoint Committee

BELLEVILLE — A study committee to improve school-community relations was created at the Aug. 13 School Board session.

Charles W. Bole, president of the Van Buren School Board; Board Member Chauncey D. Schweigert; and Dale E. Kaulitz, school superintendent, composed the committee's membership.

The numerous meetings and discussions on recent millage elections showed the need for a broader school-community relations.

Special senior citizen contests will be featured Old Timers' Day, Monday, August 26, at the Michigan State Fair. All senior citizens will be admitted free until 3 p.m. that day. The Fair opens August 23 and continues through September 2.

Post Office Wins Award

ROMULUS — A Motor Vehicle Safety Award for meritorious safety performance during fiscal year 1968 has been presented to the Romulus Post Office.

The Award was presented by Donald L. Swanson, Chicago Regional postal director.

Vehicle drivers in the Romulus Post Office met the following criteria in achieving the award:

● The accident, casualty, and cost rate per million miles driven did not exceed or was lower than the rate for the Region as a whole.

● The Romulus Post Office improved its performance rate over the previous fiscal year.

POSTMASTER GEORGE AUSTIN announced the news to his employees with special emphasis on the fine contribution which is being made by his courteous drivers.

"Courtesy is the key to good vehicle operations and to patron respect which we have earned as symbolized by this Award," he told his staff.

"Our objective" postmaster Austin said "is to achieve and maintain the goals of the President's safety program - U.S. Mission Safety 70."

This goal is to reduce all accidents by 30 per cent, by the end of fiscal year 1970. This years objective on a nationwide basis is a reduction of accidents by at least six per cent.

The Romulus post office fleet is part of a huge postal fleet which travels more than half a billion miles a year in moving tremendous loads of mail. Nearly half of the total employees in the postal field service use vehicles in their work.

"The safety record and the award received is a credit to our drivers" Postmaster Austin stated, "when you consider that postal vehicles must operate at peak traffic hours in our community."

The presentation of the award will be shown at the 6 and 11 p.m. television shows on Aug. 26 and WWJ-Radio will air a 20-minute interview with Bizek at the station's 7 p.m. radio news hour.

AN EDITORIAL

School Bells Will Soon Ring Challenge

For tens of millions of the nation's youngsters, the official closing of summer will be signaled by the ringing of the first school bell.

In days past, when a majority of our people lived in rural areas and scattered small towns, that bell often rang in the typical one room schoolhouse calling youngsters from the dusty lanes, the fields, the swimming holes where they worked and played, learned and grew during the days of summer.

Answering its call, they came to resume, often with considerable reluctance, the regimentation of school hours and the traditional pursuit of at least a passing proficiency in the 3 R's.

For most people, an education was something you got through "when you were a kid" so that you could get on about the business of making your way in the world.

THE SCHOOL BELLS of today carry a far different message and challenge to the nation's present generation of young people.

The store of man's knowledge is increasing so rapidly that no one can estimate what it may hold 10 or 20 years from now. In such a world, the schoolroom has become, not a place of dull drudgery, but a vital and broadening bridge of understanding and knowledge spanning the present range of man's accomplishments and offering the young people of today the capacity to build a future beyond our present imagination.

Our young people have a new enthusiasm for education, and this is our greatest national asset. But, they must learn of our heritage and the roots of our freedom, as well as the wonders of our technical accomplishment and capacity.

As they return to school this fall, they deserve all the encouragement and opportunity which we can give them.

ON YOUR BIRTHDAY.

Oh child o'mine so girlish, pure, and sweet,
Someday temptation's glamour you will meet!
Someday you'll hear the siren's tempting song,
Alluring you, entreating you to wrong.

Someday the world, within your mind will sow
The ugly seed, that now you do not know.
Someday where "right" and "wrong" road cross you'll stand
Where smiling "sin," and God would hold your hand!

And oh today I lift my heart in earnest prayer
As viciousness I see at every turn
And ask that you in Heaven's every turn
Will choose the "right," as primrose path you spurn!

With anxious heart and hope, I daily pray
You'll keep the sweetness that is yours today.

Extremely Risky Business

Months ago, it was obvious that Presidential election year 1968 would be unlike any previous election year — from the standpoint of the behavior of candidates, issues and even campaign techniques.

The volatility of the times made the prospect of a traditional campaign year exceedingly dim. Violence in the cities, inflation, a governmental financial crisis, and the war in Vietnam have made the political game a deadly serious business with the ultimate responsibility for a wise decision resting on the shoulders of the voters.

If ever the fate of a nation may be said to turn on an election, this is the year that it could do so.

The very grimness of campaign year 1968 was brought home to everyone by the monumental tragedy of the Kennedy assassination. Of itself, coming as it did in the early weeks of the campaign, the assassination brought everyone face-to-face with the fragile nature of human aspirations — individually and collectively.

ONE ASPECT of the election that appears to be receiving more than the usual attention this year are the polls. There is a high degree of interest not only in the odds they give to different candidates but in how they operate and in how much they may influence voting trends.

Already the polls this year have helped shape candidate behavior. According to reports, George Romney withdrew from the race on the strength of the polls, and the polls have been credited with the decision of President Johnson not to run again. Newsweek magazine recently featured a lengthy analysis of the new science of polltaking.

Like everything else in this sophisticated day, the methods of the pollsters have become intricate almost beyond description, with the computer playing an important part in their findings. No matter what people may think of polls, they have become an established part of the democratic process in the U.S.

Many of the polltakers now include consultants and advisory assistants to candidates as part of their services. And, it appears most candidates shape their campaigns, at least in some degree, in response to polls.

SOME CRITICIZE the polls, as Newsweek puts it, "... for corroding the hard edge of political leadership. Politicians, it is claimed, turn into parrots under the pollsters prodding..." Others point out that the polls do no more than make a candidate acquainted with the views of his constituents. Knowledge of what the public thinks, they say, is essential in a democratic system. And, curiously enough, as Newsweek points out, party leadership in both parties at the present time leans toward support of candidates running slightly behind in the polls.

The leaders contend the polls will change once the candidates are chosen.

As Newsweek concludes, "That may be so. But undeniably the polls have come of age. They have proven their dependability as barometers of the public mood. And if their surroundings sometimes seem erratic, this reflects not their flaws but their faithfulness to the inconsistencies of public opinion itself."

In spite of the growing dependence on polls and the interest in the science of polltaking, the general instability in human affairs, as we all know, makes projecting the outcome of the election an extremely risky business.

There is no way the polltaker can measure the pulse of the hand of fate.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor:

Isn't it a shame that our fair City of Belleville is among the number of cities who have been pegged by the AAA and other insurance companies as a speed trap.

We had my cousin and his family visit us from Philadelphia, Pa., only to find they were delayed for one hour by two Wayne County Deputies who asked them if they could post a bond when my cousin said "no". The deputies claimed my cousin didn't stop at the stop sign at the Freeway Ramp and Belleville Road. My cousin claims they couldn't have seen him (though he stopped) because he saw them (the deputies) leaving Belleville as he passed Quirk Road.

He was pulled over at the office of Shirley across from the Post Office. He was told by the deputies that he would have to go to jail since he couldn't post, leaving his wife, who can't drive, and his two children stranded in the car.

Thanks to Mr. Shirley, who drove by and took everyone into his office. My cousin was released with no charges against him and no fine. I still say it's a sad, sad thing to have happen and very embarrassing. I'm sure my cousin and his family will never visit Belleville again.

If It Fitz...

Wicker Wacky Wives

WHEN I HEARD IT WAS going into the bathroom, I couldn't help wondering how many marriages have been busted by furniture.

"It" is a smallish wicker chair. I came home from work unexpectedly to discover my wife pulling it out a Sears crate.

(It should be inserted here that my wife Pat has gone wicker wacky. It started with one of those huge, incredible wicker chairs that were popular in California in 1928 — the kind Morticia had in the TV show "The Adams Family." Someone gave it to me as a camp joke and my goofy wife remodeled our porch around it. Everything is wicker, including the flower boxes. People think I whip my wife and kids with a belt but those are really wicker marks.)

So I was not surprised to see another wicker chair arrive and I reacted with great calm.

"Good Lord, woman," I screamed, "there is not room on the porch for another one of those back-breaking chairs. What are you going to do with this one — unravel it and knit yourself a new wig?"

"It is not going on the porch," Pat said, "it is going in our bathroom."

"Hey," I said, "that's funnier than knitting a wig out of it. Keep it up and I'll let you write the column some week. A wicker chair in the bathroom! That's a good one. What are you really going to do with it?"

"It is going into the bathroom," she said. "I am not kidding."

I could tell she meant it. I could tell by the way she trembled and turned red when I fell on the floor laughing. I asked her what she was going to do with a wicker chair in the bathroom.

"I am going to sit in it," she explained. "Why can't you sit where the rest of us sit?" I asked sensibly.

"It will be handy for when you come out of the shower," she explained further.

"A guy could get marked for life," I said.

"I will put a cushion on it," she said.

And she did. A purple cushion to match the toilet paper.

'Judge All Men Just One Way'

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN
ANP Staff Writer

For the present, Leon Carroll, who has just retired after 13 years on the Inkster city council, isn't afraid of that present even though at the time he sat talking his hometown of Inkster had been rocked with disturbances that could have easily erupted into greater violence.

"I hardly know how to state this," he said as he talked of those disturbances. "One has to be very careful in this day because people are disturbed and upset and I don't want to say anything that could cause further disturbance. But I do think the whole thing that happened in Inkster was a misunderstanding and the citizens and the police officials are working together."

His dark eyes looked right through the wall as he pondered, and at last he said, "That is really the secret of solving all this. . . citizens and police officials. . . everybody working together."

"I hate to think of police being shot. . . it makes me sick. . . and it was most unfortunate about the boy, too. The whole business was tragic. . . but what we must remember is that once a disturbance takes place one has a real problem trying to control it. What we must work for, each citizen of the world, is to make sure these disturbances don't occur."

Leon Carroll spent a lot of time in city council making sure that upsets didn't occur, if he could help it. When he was first elected in 1955 there were no financial books. . . nothing to indicate how much money came in, or how much money went out.

This was his first fight. . . to get books. . . and it took a little while.

"Finally with the help of the citizens we got an independent auditor who said there was no way to tell how much money, or if any money had been misappropriated," Carroll said.

"I guess," he said quietly, "that if I accomplished nothing else, at least the citizens are protected under an adequate bookkeeping system."

During that 13 years Carroll accomplished a great deal, most of it widely known throughout this area. One of the things he enjoyed most was when he served as president of the board on the Wayne County Sanitation Authority and he felt pretty proud when he was elected as treasurer for this year, even though he will be unable to serve in that capacity since he resigned.

When asked why he resigned he gave a rather big sigh and then said his job as business agent for the Metropolitan Council No. 23 was taking up so much of his time he felt he couldn't give his very best to anything else.

He was more talkative when asked his viewpoint on the racial situation, and as he talked it became more and more evident why Leon Carroll was a councilman, a citizen and a businessman, of which his hometown, his state and his country could be most proud.

"I like to think of it as not racial. When you speak of race," he said, "it makes me think of a dog race or a horse race, or something like that. I like to think of it as human problems."

"As I've always believed there has to be a sincere effort on the part of all human beings to get to the root of the problem and find a solution, and that solution is going to have to come from within."

Here he tapped his massive chest before he continued,

"Segregation has been a law in some states. . . and I honestly don't believe that America has really ever faced up to the real problem. I think the system of governing people. . . the powers-to-be. . . is going to have to change."

In talking of the system changing he emphasized he was not talking against the government. . . only the system. . . the system which isn't reluctant to give but has shown reluctance in getting to the root of the problem.

"You have poor people," he said, "people who have nothing to eat, nothing to wear. People who have lost their incentive, because there is nowhere they can turn to redeem their self-respect. What happened in Washington was that people would rather be there in Resurrection City in the mud than at home."

"What was significant to me was when they were asked why they didn't go home. They said that in Washington they, at least, were being recognized and were being called by name. It's important for a man to be called by his name. . . in some places, like Mississippi, these people are treated as if they had no name."

Carroll leaned back in his chair and made himself more comfortable.

"The greater percentage of people would rather be independent than to have hand-outs. The system has been so clouded with segregation it has done something to the morale of the people. If we could offer them gainful employment it would be so much better. . . and would go a long way in solving all the other problems."

"A man has to be proud of himself. He has to be able to identify with the rest of the country and stand tall and proud. He can't do this unless he has pride in himself, and he can't have pride in himself if he isn't accomplishing something. And he can't accomplish something if his hands are tied."

As one listened to Leon Carroll one could see why the city of Inkster felt a real loss in his resignation from the council.

"I think the government has a real responsibility here," he continued, "and so has business. I think if business, whenever possible, would do what Henry Ford did. . . hire people from the hard-core city. . . people who were deemed unemployable. . . and put them to work, we would be on the road to solving the whole thing."

"What it boils down to," he said as he stood up to leave, "is that people must be judged on their individual worth. When man faces up to the realities of life and he begins to look at an individual for his individual worth, then we will begin to make progress. But this hasn't been the case in the past."

There's absolutely no solution that you can go out to the ten-cent store and buy. We are going to have to search and work and be willing to work constantly, and to recognize each man as an individual and to judge him on his individuality. Not color, not religion, not anything, but his own unique individuality."

He got almost to the door when he stopped and turned around. He still had thoughts on his mind and he stood there, a most prepossessing figure. . . a man who knows what he says is right. . . and a man who is not afraid to say what he thinks is right, nor to fight for what he believes is right.

"Understand," he said, "we have the greatest society in the world. . . there is no doubt about that. . . but there are certain ills. . . and society hasn't learned how to treat the symptoms. The rioting and the violence is a symptom, and perhaps good may come of it if we recognize it for what it is, but I would have liked to have seen it come in a different fashion. People become bitter over violence. . . and it takes longer to accomplish what one is fighting for."

"When we recognize the symptoms and do something about it, America will truly be great. This is not actually a racial thing. . . it's just man calling out to man. . . respect me as a man, judge me on my abilities and give me a chance on the basis of being a man who possesses abilities." That's what I want. . . that's what you want. . . that's what everyone wants."

"When recognition of this comes. . . then America will realize her fullest potentials."

Then he walked out the door. . . a man who it would be difficult to judge any other way than on his abilities. . . and his thoughts.

From Eyes and Years A Wife's Value

By ROBERT WEBSTER

After listening to radio and T.V. commentators and watching some of the political activities on the screen, I was amazed at the number of close-ups given to the wives of the leading political figures. Without exception they were well groomed, attractive, vivid and vivacious.

I could not help wondering to what extent they were responsible for their husband's success, or lack of it. When I looked back and remembered Ike and Mamie, J.F.K. and Jackie, along with numerous other husband and wife teams, I came to the conclusion that the men who reach the pinnacle of success, whether it be in politics or some other field, must have the active aid and encouragement of their wives. The men who have been extremely successful without the wife's co-operation are few and far between.

One of the reasons for my confidence in the ladies is on many occasions the wife has stepped into the shoes of a deceased senator, governor or congressman and has equalled or even surpassed his record. For instance, how about Senator Margaret Chase Smith? For this and other reasons I am persuaded that a wife's personality, ability and advice, yes, even her womanly intuition, are major factors in the development of a man's rise in the world and also in helping him to stay on top. A woman can be a loadstone, attracting others, not so much to herself as to her husband. In making him attractive, she is unconsciously making herself attractive, without trying to do so. On the other hand, she can be a millstone about his neck, a liability of such a nature that, struggle as he will, he is doomed to failure because of the handicap of being tied to an anchor that will not permit him to move up into those areas of society to which his talents and abilities would ordinarily entitle him.

If I were a young man with political or other ambitions, the first thing I would do, if I were smart, would be to select the right kind of wife. The best advice I have ever found along this line is contained in an old book I have before me:

"Who can find a virtuous woman? For her price is far above rubies. The heart of her husband doth safely trust in her, so that he shall have no need of spoil. She will do him good and not evil all the days of her life."

Come to think of it, I would have sworn that old book was talking about my little wife, who has truly been a real helpmate to me in every way, rather than a checkmate.

Who could think of refurbishing at a time like this?

Seems like a funny time to talk about replacing a furnace, huh? Actually, warm weather's the best time to make home repairs. Like replacing a cranky old heating system with modern electric heat.

And now's an especially good time to convert. Right now, your Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor will give you $100 for your old heating system when you change to electric heat.

Why electric heat? It's comfortable—really comfortable. No chill one moment nor blast of hot, dry air the next.

And operating cost is guaranteed. Call Edison for details, and some names of Approved Electric Heat Contractors.

So if your old furnace won't make it another winter, remember now's the best time to refurbance . . . to modern electric heat.

VISITS HOLLAND

MRS. JOHN R. Willet (Kitty), of Savage road, has returned from a six-weeks vacation in the Netherlands where she was the guest of Janke De Jong — her exchange student 'daughter' back in 1966. The houseguest of the DeJong family, Mrs. Willet says Janke sends her hello to all her friends in Belleville and says she misses them very much.

Mrs. Willet became very fond of Holland and its people who, she says, are in no hurry, whatsoever, and travel mostly via bicycle and small cars. The food there is much the same as ours but prepared differently and, she added, the Dutch language is very difficult to learn. She especially admired the many, many flowers which color the cities and countryside and was amazed at the big variety. Another thing she observed was that police officers in large cities ride bikes or horses and use very few cars.

Janke (at right) stayed with the John Willets while attending Belleville High School two years ago.

VACATIONERS RETURN

THE WILLIAM Harrys and their three children, Mark, Melissa, and Kevin, arrived back in Belleville Friday after a two weeks camping trip which took them as far west as Yellowstone National Park. They made the trip via the Badlands and Mount Rushmore and in Orange City, Iowa, stopped to see the Wayne Plattner family, formerly of Willis. The National Tetons and Rocky Mountain Park (where the kiddies made snowballs) were among the spots they pitched camp and were thrilled to see all kinds of wildlife — buffalo, moose, elk, bear, etc.

JANKE

HOME AFTER a 12-day motor trip to Kansas are the Paul Dubays and their four children, Michael, Renee, Glenn, and Douglas, of Judd road. The family spent most of their time visiting with T/Sgt. and Mrs. Leonard Sawyer who are just recently back in the States after a stint on Okinawa. A former Air Force 'buddy' of Mr. Dubay's, the sergeant and his family are stationed at Forbes Air Force Base near Topeka.

Just in from a trip to McKeesport, Pennsylvania, the group visited with both George and Mary's relatives and also did a bit of sight-seeing. They drove to Ottawa Park (a nature park in the foothills of the mountains near Ligonier) and also stopped at Story Book Forest nearby. During their stay in McKeesport they also took part in the "International Village" celebration — sampling dishes native to many foreign lands, seeing the big parade, and watching the colorful dances of each ethnic group.

Sunday a few Clarence street neighbors got together at the home of Clyde and Marion Batzer for a farewell picnic. Attending the evening party were Bud and Frances Stapleton, Bob and Millie Baker, and Wes and Agnes Elliott.

FOR GRANDMA-TO-BE

LEAVE IT to Lillian Partridge to come up with a cute, clever idea! This time it was a "Grandmother's Shower" for her close friend, Mrs. Virginia Dicks, of W. Huron River drive. Held last Wednesday at Lillian's home on the same street, the invitation to luncheon (Maurice salad, hot rolls, and grasshopper pie) was answered by Mrs. Martha Dicks and Mrs. Paul Bowyer, of Ypsilanti; Mrs. Virginia James and Mrs. Grant Dicks, of Livonia; and Mrs. Donald Beasley, of Dearborn; and Mrs. James Simister.

Opening gifts in a yellow and green setting, the grandmother-to-be found a couple special surprises just for her. The other pretty, fluffy layette items will be sent on to California to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dicks who are expecting the first heir in the Dicks family.

TOUR GROUP RETURNS

MRS. DORIS ROE, Mrs. Lee Stokes and daughter, Janey; Kenneth Nollf, Jan Barden, and the Allen B. Rices and sons, Eric and Allen — Belleville's contribution to a recent European tour — returned home last week and with many fond memories.

The tour, sponsored by Detroit Conference Methodist Church, was of four weeks duration beginning in Amsterdam, Holland. The group (there were 140 in all) broke up into three touring groups, each led by a clergyman.

Three weeks of the trip was spent via a tour bus which took the Ecumenical group through Holland, into Germany, Switzerland, Austria, and Italy then back into Switzerland and onto France, and Belgium. Then it was via night boat across the Channel to the English shore and then by train to London.

Pin-point highlights of the trip were seeing Venice from a gondola and learning something of the Austrian people by spending an evening learning yodeling and observing their native musical instruments.

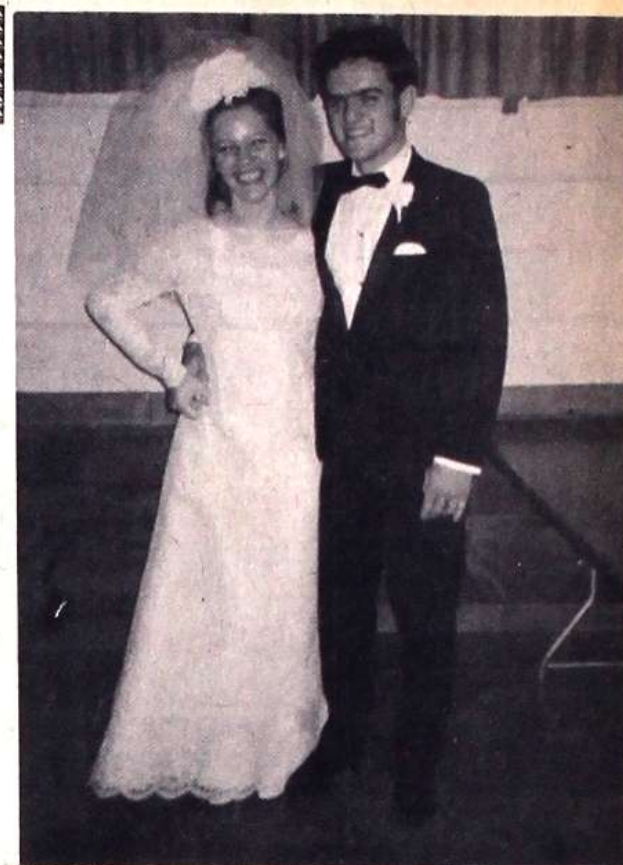

HERE 'N THERE

MR. AND Mrs. Harold Krause and daughter, Ellen, flew down to Louisville, Kentucky, where they were met by their son and daughter-in-law, P.F.C. and Mrs. Elwin Krause. Linda Wallace Is August Bride Of Don Ritzenhein

The First Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved August 3 for the seven o'clock wedding ceremony which united Linda Ann Wallace and Donald Neil Ritzenhein in holy matrimony. White gladioli and carnations graced the altar as the Rev. Allen B. Rice, II, read the double ring nuptials before an assembled 200 guests.

Mrs. Clyde Batzer, soloist for the happy occasion, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "At Dawning" accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Darryl Raymond, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving G. Wallace, of 14225 Elwell road, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritzenhein, of 541 South Franklin street, Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, are parents of the young couple.

ESCORTED to the altar by her father, Linda appeared in a silk organza creation fashioned with a toe-touching A-line skirt with a chapel train drifting from the natural waistline. Styling details on her gown included three-quarter sleeves bordered with Chantilly lace and a squared neckline of lace frosted with seed pearls and sequins.

Her bouffant veil of silk illusion cascaded to elbow length from a petala headpiece of nylon outlined with seed pearls and sequins. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade arrangement of white carnations encircling a detachable orchid corsage.

The bride's former roommate, Melanie Destal, came from Athens, Ohio, to serve as honor attendant. Her blue linen sheath frock was fashioned with a stand-up collar and was accessorized by a bow head-dress edged with a brief veil. The bouquet she carried was comprised of cascading pink and white miniature carnations.

Forming the trio of bridesmaids were Linda's sisters, Kaye, Jacque, and Jill Wallace, who donned ensembles identical to the honor maids.

THE BRIDEGROOM asked his brother, David, to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were Robert Beasecker, of Belleville; Leonard Roberts, a former roommate from Detroit; and Mark Bergstrom, the bride's cousin, from Troy.

At the reception which followed in the Fellowship Hall of the church, Mrs. Wallace received in a gold, silk shantung sheath with a companion coat, gold shoes and handbag, and beige hat and gloves. For her son's wedding, Mrs. Ritzenhein chose a sleeveless yellow ensemble with matching accessories. Both mothers added cymbidium orchids to their costumes.

Following their two week honeymoon at Bear Lake, Michigan, Mackinac Island, and the Wisconsin Dells, the newlyweds made their home at 3415 Fairmont, Apt. 22, Royal Oak.

Linda is a student at Wayne State University where she is a special education major in mental retardation.

A graduate of Wayne State, her husband majored in English and is currently on the staff of Lathrup High School, in Southfield. While at Wayne he was affiliated with Omicron Delta Kappa and Mackenzie Honor Society, and is Past President of Delta Sigma Rho-Tau Kappa Alpha Forensic Honorary. DICK AND BILL HOOK

Men's wedding rings date back to 1000 B.C., but it wasn't until World War II that they were widely worn in this country. For one thing, young men faced with the prospect of leaving their brides became eager for some tangible remembrance of home, family and the married state that in many cases they had scarcely been able to enjoy. In a foxhole, for example, a ring was virtually the only token they could carry, and wedding rings, became almost as common as the M-1 rifle. By 1944 nearly 70 percent of American weddings were double-ring ceremonies. After the war, they dipped to about 60 percent of the total, then rose again during the Korean War.

MEAN 500 MORE JOBS

Ford's Michigan Truck Plant To Be Enlarged 40 Percent

WAYNE — The Ford Motor Company, enjoying record truck sales in 1968, will build two additions to its Michigan Truck Plant to increase capacity by more than 40 per cent.

The additions, totaling about 350,000 square feet of manufacturing area, will mean more than 500 new jobs at the Wayne, Mich., installation, Roderick M. Sherwood, plant manager, announced.

Construction will begin later this year and be completed in the fall of 1969.

Highlights of the expansion project are an assembly addition to raise plant capacity, expanded paint facilities, greater warehousing capacity, increased rail shipping and receiving space, more office area and improved employee facilities, including a new medical department and modernized cafeteria.

"WHEN EVERYTHING is finished, we will have greater flexibility and the capacity to keep pace with increasing truck demand," Sherwood said.

Ford's Michigan Truck Plant produces light trucks, school bus chassis, parcel delivery trucks and the Bronco, a utility and recreation vehicle. Present employment is about 1,590 persons.

To gain space for the planned improvements, Ford recently acquired approximately 30 acres of land adjacent to the plant and west of Cogswell Road. A section of Cogswell between the Penn Central Railroad tracks and Michigan Avenue will be closed to provide for the building addition, storage area, and additional employee parking. The Michigan Truck Plant occupies the company's former Wayne Station Wagon Body Plant. Used from 1959 to 1964 for storage, the facility was expanded to approximately 450,000 square feet and converted to truck production in early 1964. Two additions totaling 239,000 square feet were completed later that year. Currently, the plant is the only Ford installation in the U.S. producing trucks exclusively.

FORD TRUCK sales of 326,184 units in the first six months of 1968 led the industry and set an all-time company high.

The first-half performance represented an 11.2 per cent increase over sales for the same period in 1967.

On June 30 of this year, Ford completed the best quarter for truck sales in company history.

TALUS Issues Study- 'A Profile on Southeastern Michigan'

A statistical profile outlining how 4.4 million people in Southeastern Michigan live has been produced by TALUS. Called "one of the most comprehensive and intense studies of human behavior ever undertaken in any metropolitan area" by Irving J. Rubin, TALUS director, the document itemizes 48 elements of information about 115 communities in the region. In addition, the City of Detroit is divided into 49 areas.

To assemble the information needed as a part of the base for development of a master plan for the seven counties of SEM (Southeast Michigan) in 1990, TALUS retained the Center for Urban Studies of the University of Michigan (Dearborn Campus).

TALUS IS A special project of the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Among the significant data items were those delineating differences between Inner City and Suburban residents in Education, Income, and Travel categories.

These showed that annual median income for households in Detroit was $6,350, compared with $8,540 for Macomb County, $8,590 for suburban Wayne County, $9,020 for Oakland County and $7,710 for the region as a whole.

Median annual family income ranged from $2,800 in a part of Detroit bounded by Woodward, Dequindre, East Grand Boulevard, and Grand Circus Park, to $20,000-plus in Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township and Grosse Pointe Shores.

ONE OF THE measures of educational attainment is the percentage of heads of household who had graduated from college. In the City of Detroit, 7.6 percent attained this level; in Macomb, 9.2 percent; in suburban Wayne, 12.4 percent; in Oakland County, 19.5 percent; and in the region as a whole, 11.3 percent.

Bloomfield Hills peaked all communities in this category with 61.5 percent of household heads reporting they had graduated from college. The survey showed no college graduates in the Delray district in Detroit's far Southwest corner.

The amount of travel activity per household varied according to educational attainment and income level. In Detroit, households averaged 5.8 trips per day; in Macomb County, 9.8 trips per day; in suburban Wayne County, 9.4 trips per day; in Oakland County, 9.9 trips per day; and in the region as a whole, 8.0 trips per day.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS topped all communities, reporting 14.6 trips per household per day. Two areas of Detroit — the Woodward-East Grand Boulevard-Dequindre - Grand Circus Park sector and the area bounded by Michigan, West Grand Boulevard, Woodward and the Detroit River — households reported averaging 1.9 trips per day, lowest in the region.

Among the endeavors required in the data-gathering operation were on-the-road interviews with 90,000 motorists at major points of access to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, interviews with 10,000 truck and taxi drivers, and "at home" interviews to detail the characteristics of 125,000 residents.

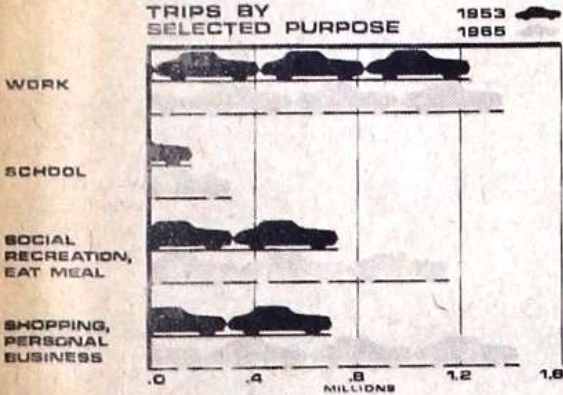

"TALUS DATA: A Profile of Southeastern Michigan," summarizes the responses of the "at home" interviews carried out in every 25th household.

The 48 informational items are grouped into nine categories: Population, Housing, Length of Residence, Marital Status of Household Head, Life Cycle Status of Household, Family Income, and Travel.

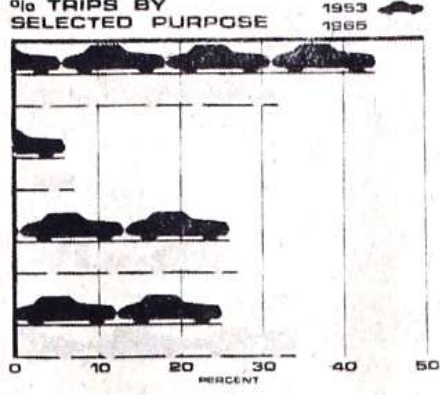

"SURVEY RESEARCH advisors and other expert in such procedures agreed that the data gathered in the 2,500 square miles within the established cordon line where 93 per cent of the population resided would be applicable for all of the region," Rubin said.

Copies of "TALUS DATA" are being forwarded to all governmental agencies within the region, which includes Monroe, Washtenaw, Livingston, and St. Clair counties, in addition to the three "core counties."

Private citizens and companies may purchase the publication by enclosing $2 per copy requested by mail to TALUS at 1248 Washington Boulevard (48226)

SUBSTANTIAL CHANGES in trip purpose of people in Southeast Michigan as revealed in the TALUS survey of households are illustrated above in two ways. Graph (left) shows how total trips (classified here in four general purposes for illustration) increased between 1953 (Detroit Metropolitan Area Traffic Study) and 1965 (TALUS). Graph (right) shows how the percentages of trips for these purposes changed in relation to each other. The data is a part of the information accumulated by TALUS as basis for projecting a seven-county master plan for 1990.

These showed that annual median income for households in Detroit was $6,350, compared with $8,540 for Macomb County, $8,590 for suburban Wayne County, $9,020 for Oakland County and $7,710 for the region as a whole.

WASHINGTON AND Small Business

BY C. WILSON HARDER

Unacademic Freedom

Around the turn of the century there was an educator by the name of Dewey who launched the idea of what is known as "progressive education."

And this is perhaps what causes the trouble in the college campuses today. In Dewey's time, the biggest thing going was to set fire to the opposing colleges bonfire before they could hold their pre-Big Game rally. Or to paint the sidewalks with the school color.

This then progressed to swallowing goldfish, tearing down goal posts, and even crowding astounding numbers of students into telephone booths.

And now it has progressed to seizing college buildings, taking over school offices, burning and destroying records, books and furniture. And such has education progressed that there are even some faculty members who hail this as progressive education.

But as education has become more "progressive" so has the burden of taxes placed on the average citizen for education become more progressive. In fact, much more progress could well break his back.

Perhaps the two most overlooked factors in this whole sorry mess that has disrupted the college campuses are academic freedom and the taxpayer.

This academic freedom cry raised whenever the college decides to expel Johnny for burning up the furniture in the dean's office is a little hard to understand. What precisely are the academic freedoms of the majority of the students who want to learn and are barred from classes because a rabble of a minority have taken over the buildings.

Perhaps these young people, the majority of students, who are being damaged by this practice of so called academic freedom should set up a movement for what might be called unacademic freedom.

On the second point, the taxpayer has been subjected for some time to long discourses on the need for more taxes to assure everyone the opportunity to go to college.

There is some merit in this point. But it is hard to find any merit in the principle that everybody has the right to riot at the college of their choice.

In the long run, those educators who defend student rioting as academic freedom, and those government leaders who are reluctant to send in police to stop the rioting, may be doing education the greatest disservice of all.

For the taxpayers may decide that progressive taxes for this sort of progressive education should be chopped off. Thus, any candidate for a higher degree in college teaching should perhaps be forced to write his thesis on the ancient myth about killing the goose that laid the golden eggs.

Members of CAP Participate in Test

By CAPT. HARRY B. BELL

ROMULUS. Eight members of the Metro Emergency Services Senior Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol, plus three children, left for Battle Creek, on Aug. 9 for the Civil Defense Annual Effectiveness Test.

They stopped for dinner on the outskirts of Battle Creek. After having a good meal, they continued to the W. K. Kellogg Company, for a tour of the plant.

The members then left for the Kellogg Airport to set up camp. It was a very hot night, but by morning, it was very cool. We had our own generator for power.

The test started at 7 a.m. Saturday morning. Everyone taking part had a "briefing" by Lt. Col. Tom Patterson. Each car that entered the airport after the test started was stopped and the occupants had to go to a building and be decontaminated. They pretended an Atom Bomb had fallen, and wiped out the City of Grand Rapids. On Saturday morning four more members had arrived with two more children.

During the second week, the unit, along with several other civil affairs organizations in the 5th Army Area, takes part in Exercise "Strong Block IV." The exercise is an attempt to have civil affairs units conduct operations under conditions similar to what would be encountered in a military theater.

NDC Sets Corporate Structure

DETROIT--The New Detroit Committee, moving forward to strengthen present and long range endeavors, announced the establishment of a corporate structure for the committee under the corporate laws of Michigan.

The new organizational structure will have the official title of New Detroit, Inc., and hereafter will be a separate organization. Metropolitan Fund, Inc., provided the initial staff, funds and office space during New Detroit's first year of existence.

Max M. Fisher has been elected chairman of New Detroit, Inc. A charter member of the New Detroit Committee and chairman of its Economic Development Subcommittee, Fisher will succeed Joseph L. Hudson Jr., who has presided as chairman during NDC's initial year of operation.

William T. Patrick, Jr., leaves the vice-presidency of Metropolitan Fund to become president of New Detroit Inc. He is on extended leave of absence from the Michigan Bell Telephone Company where he was assistant general attorney.

Fisher and Patrick will assume their new responsibilities at the Sept. 5 meeting of New Detroit. Other officers and aides will be named.

Chairman of United Foundation and President of the United Jewish Appeal, Fisher has decades of service in civic, community and charity programs. He said New Detroit will continue to move ahead with a $10 million fund to help resolve some of the social problems of Metropolitan Detroit. The fund represents "plus giving" from local business and industry and the Ford Foundation.

Patrick has served as executive director of New Detroit since its beginning. His broad background of political, economic, civic and social affairs provide him with a keen insight of the problems of today's changing world.

He was the first Negro elected to Detroit's City Council. He has served as assistant prosecuting attorney for Wayne County and as chairman of Wayne County Board of Supervisors. A past vice-president of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit, he is a board member of several social agencies and civic organizations. He is a graduate of Howard University and the University of Michigan Law School.

A task force of men and women loaned by industry, business, labor, education, government and other endeavors which has provided the nucleus for New Detroit projects in the past will continue to be involved in future activities.

"Detroit is indeed fortunate to have men as Mr. Fisher, Mr. Patrick, and others who have contributed their knowledge and energies and vast sources of manpower, funds and other essentials towards reaching our objectives," Hudson said.

Hudson expressed the appreciation of New Detroit to Kent Mathewson, Metropolitan Fund president, and his staff, for their immediate availability, financial assistance and guidance through numerous and complex problems and projects during NDC's developmental stages.

Metropolitan Fund is an urban affairs foundation concerned with the resolution of metropolitan problems in the six-county southeast Michigan region.

THAT'S SHOW BIZ — Pitching hay and coral housecleaning is one of the major jobs of a 4-H Fair. It is part of show business. Above is Joan Otter of 25330 Otter Road, New Boston, going about her chores during one of the "busiest" Fairs held at the Fairgrounds.

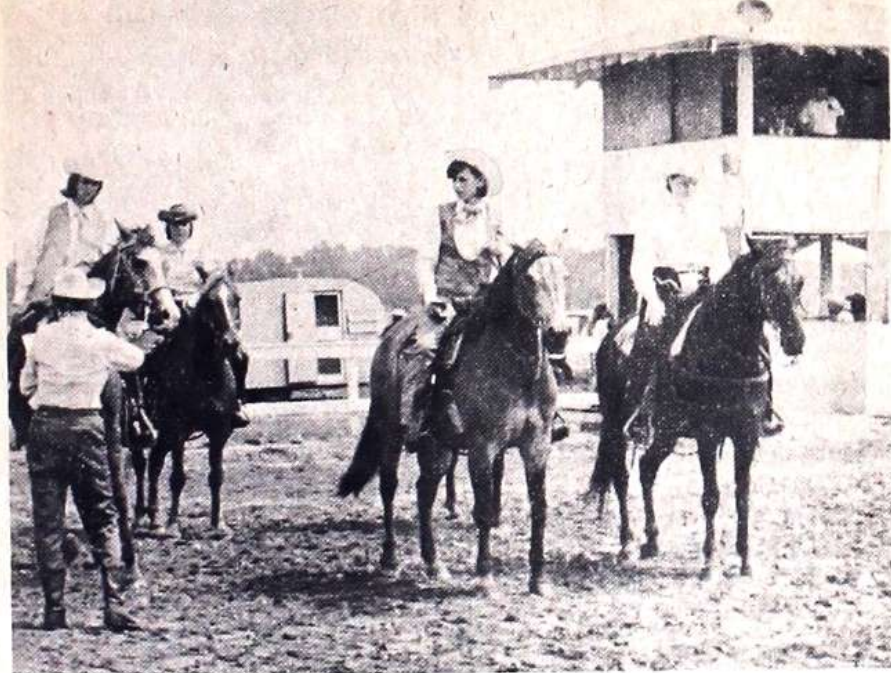

PLAYING AT 4-H FAIR — "The Roundabouts," a local group of musicians, appeared last Saturday and Sunday at the Wayne County 4-H Fair. OL' MAC DONALD'S FARM was a hectic place for all the kiddies at the Wayne County 4-H Fair. But "Ole Mac," who is Brooks Ballantyne, 24170 Middlebelt Road, New Boston, did not miss keeping up with the current news when the Enterprise - Roman arrived, at the Fairgrounds.

Huron Schools Vote On Mill Hike Sept. 5

NEW BOSTON — A special school millage election will be in the Huron Township School District on Sept. 5.

The School Board scheduled the election, the fifth in little more than a year, following the presentation of a citizens' petition requesting the Board of Education to approve the setting of another election.

The Millage Increase Proposition seeks voter approval of a mill levy of 10 mills for a period of five years (1968-1972) on $1,000 of assessed valuation as finally state equalized for the purpose of general school operation.

AT THE present time the school district levies a total of 10.9 mills for operating, 7.9 mills allocated by the Wayne County Allocation Board and three mills voted by the school system's electorate. In addition 7.05 mills are levied for debt retirement.

The proposed millage has been defeated four consecutive times. If voters approved the millage, the district would receive approximately $116,000 based on more than $23 million of state qualified evaluation of township property.

The School Board had ordered cutbacks in school programs in the new school year including half-day sessions, Superintendent Bryon Antcliff, said.

He stated that it would not be possible to avoid the half-day sessions during the first semester even if the millage was approved.

AN EDITORIAL

McGovern - and Maddox

Sen. George McGovern, a modest man, hardly expects to become the Democratic presidential nominee. But his late-hour announcement that he is a candidate accomplishes two things.

• It adds pressure for the inclusion of a very strong antiwar, Vietnam-peace plank in the Democratic platform.

• It provides a spot, other than the candidacy of Sen. Eugene McCarthy where the restive Kennedyites may come to roost.

The conclusion to be drawn is that most of the movers and shakers among the Democrats do expect Vice-President Hubert Humphrey to become the Democratic presidential nominee. But that a clear majority want to see Mr. Humphrey break clear of President Johnson's Vietnam policy. And that they believe that the best way to "free" the Vice-President is via a strong antiwar plank in the Democratic platform. The McGovern candidacy will help produce this plank.

Senator McGovern has been an outspoken "dove" in the Senate. He early called the intensification of bombing against North Vietnam "a policy of madness." But, be it noted, this South Dakotan has avoided harsh words against Mr. Humphrey. He has applauded the Vice-President's liberal record on domestic policy.

Supporters of the late Sen. Robert Kennedy have had an obvious hand in urging Senator McGovern to stand forth.

There are Kennedyites who do not yet relish Senator McCarthy's candidacy. They resent his campaign attacks against their man. They have felt that Senator McCarthy was less than specific in some of his advocacies, and that he failed to appeal to the American "underclass" - the blacks of the ghetto and the poor whites of the hinterlands - with whom Senator Kennedy so closely identified himself.

Now they have a candidate who was "early for Kennedy," who would mobilize American resources for the "long-neglected" problems of the cities and rural poor, and who can reconstitute a little of that lost enthusiasm which went out of their lives with Bob Kennedy's passing.

Far off on the right flank another possible candidacy, that of Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, is a late-blooming phenomenon. This Southerner, who has previously expressed admiration for third-party candidate George Wallace, expects too that his candidacy may influence the convention platform. That it could have much impact in a convention that is dominated by Humphrey-McCarthy-Kennedy forces is very doubtful.

One can easily envisage Mr. Humphrey choosing Senator McGovern as his running mate, if McGovern be willing, and thus strengthening his Kennedy ties after all. One can hardly see HHH offering the vice-presidential slot to Governor Maddox.

Nursing Home Gets Final OK

BELLEVILLE - A recommendation by the Van Buren Planning Commission that a rezoning of 10 acres of land, located on the southeast corner of Beck and Tyler Roads, be approved was endorsed unanimously by the Van Buren Township Board Aug. 13.

The petition requesting a rezoning from light industry to multiple dwelling classification to permit the construction of the nursing home was filed by Gaspare Coccimiglio of Dearborn, owner of the land parcel.

The Planners had approved the rezoning request previously but objections raised before the Township Board by officials of the Willow Run Airport, members of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission when disclosing a proposed expansion of the airport prompted Board members to refer the case back to the planners for further study.

On Aug. 7, they (planners) upheld their previous recommendation and pointed out that they considered the added tax base that the construction of the nursing home would offer the township rather than wait some years for the proposed development of the airport.

High School Girls Sought by Air Force

Sergeant W. R. Williams, local Air Force Representative, has announced that an urgent requirement exists for Women High School Graduates to enlist in the Air Force.

"Today many WAF are serving their country in

A WAF who started earning college credits while in an enlisted status now has her college degree and is back on active duty as a lieutenant at Randolph AFB, Texas, as a personnel computer programmer.

Sergeant Williams urges all Belleville area women high school graduates, interested in more information, to contact him at 6228 Middlebelt Road, or call him at 425-5858. Garden City, Mich.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

A Day In Old Scotia

by HELEN FURCEAN

BAGPIPES DO SOMETHING to me. I love to hear the wild sounds that make me think of kilts and shortbread and the old Scottish traditions that my parents have told me about all my life.

One of the traditions the Scots who have immigrated to this country observe is the annual Scottish Picnic of the St. Andrew's Society held every year on the third Thursday of August.

With loaded picnic baskets, children and grandchildren in tow, and the anticipation of meeting old friends and making new, the Scots of Detroit and the surrounding area board the Bob-Lo boat to the skirts of the bagpipes.

The Kiltie Band, in its stately tartans, pipe the crowd onto the boat in Detroit and lead them off when they reach the island and for a day the familiar amusement park in the Detroit River becomes a part of Old Scotia.

The crowd heads for choice tables between the rides and the game fields on the other side of the island, and for the rest of the day you have a hard time deciding how to divide your time in order to get in a few rides and not miss any of the events being staged at the grounds.

I usually end up trying to get a seat in the shaded grandstand and watching the little girls competing for honors in the beautiful traditional dances of Scotland.

How bright and colorful they are, each in her costume of kilt, waistcoat, lacy blouse, stockings and dancing shoes. Seldom do you find a tartan duplicated. Each girl is judged not only on her dancing, but on the correctness of her outfit.

When the dancing starts, your eye is captivated by the swirling pleats of green, red, blue and yellow. The solemn bows, the hands gracefully raised, and then the precise steps of the Sword Dance keep the crowd spellbound. After that comes the Highland Fling and the Sheep Trews, a light, airy dance of the highlands.

One of the sporting events I have never seen anywhere else is "tossing the caber". This involves picking up what looks like a telephone pole, balancing it on end, and throwing it so that it turns end over. I don't know how they can pick it up, never mind throwing it around, but they do. I've always wondered where they practice and who keeps the pole between events.

The Scots aren't the only ones captivated by the sights going on. Last year a Negro family stopped to watch the dancing. They were greeted by a grinning Scot in a tartan tam who asked them, "And what parrrrt o' Scotland are ye frrrom?"

At the end of the day, the tired and happy crowd heads for the boat escorted by the pipe band. Drowsy children, born in this country, seem to have acquired, for a day at least, the musical accent of their ancestors.

"We're no awa' ta bide awa' " says an old Scottish song and next year the little island again become a miniature Scotland, alive with the sights and sounds dear to the hearts of Scotsmen, where ever they may be.

Here's How to Take Sting Out of Bites

Lost any blood to a mosquito lately? Run into (or away from) any bees, wasps, spiders, ticks, stinging ants?

To take the sting from their bites, the Health Insurance Institute has compiled these facts and tips about bugs:

Mosquito - The female of this species is truly more deadly... She does the biting, prefers warm bodies and has definite color preferences such as blacks, dark reds and blues.

Suggestion: Keep cool. Mosquitoes are less likely to bite someone with a skin temperature of under 90 degrees. Also wear white, yellow and light green apparel, most unappealing to mosquitoes.

Flies, gnats - No section of the nation is free of these disease-carrying pests. They are similar to mosquitoes, do not see as well in the dark, but also seem attracted to dark clothing.

Suggestion: Dress lightly and wash any bites with alcohol. Calamine lotion is a good itch-reliever.

BEEES, WASPS - Wasps are said to have the nastiest dispositions. A sting from either can be extremely painful, although most people get little more than a localized swelling. If the reaction is more extensive, you should ask a doctor immediately about desensitization treatments. Ice water will help reduce swellings, prevent spread of venom.

WSU Gets Petitpren's Papers

The papers of State Representative Vincent J. Petitpren have been placed with the Wayne State University Labor History Archives. Dr. Philip P. Mason, Archives director, has announced.

Petitpren, who resides at 30810 Palmer, Wayne and represents the 37th district in Wayne County, is a former instructor at Eastern Michigan University. He received the Michigan Outstanding Teacher Award in 1961 and participated in the program of education and indoctrination of Peace Corps volunteers.

The collection contains material relating to his work as chairman of the Committee of Colleges and Universities.

"This collection will offer to researchers valuable insight into the problems confronting Michigan government in the early 1960's," Mason said.

Suggestion: Don't disturb their nests. If you do, they are sure to attack you. If stung, sodium bicarbonate paste or household ammonia should ease pain.

Only the bumblebee leaves his stinger. It is important that this be removed and it can be done by scraping it out with a fingernail or a needle. Never try to pull or squeeze it out.

Spiders - Few are harmful, but two types can be lethal.

THE BITE of the deadly black widow, found throughout the nation, can cause muscular pain, spasms of the diaphragm, nausea and fever. But the timid "brown recluse" can be as deadly. It inhabits the southern and western parts of the nation and can frequently be found in homes. Oddly, you may not feel its bite, but the venom is so powerful it can cause infections, gangrene, even death.

Suggestion: If bitten, check immediately with the nearest doctor.

Ants - The bite of fire, harvester, velvet tree and in some cases carpenter ant can be as painful as a bee sting, and should be treated in much the same manner.

Suggestion: Simple treatment, such as application of diluted ammonia or calamine lotion, will usually reduce the bite's pain.

Ticks - These blood suckers can usually be found in areas of woods, shrubs and undergrowth; sometimes around sheep, cattle, and smaller animals such as rabbits, even dogs.

USUALLY THEIR sucking produces nothing more than a small sore; but their bite sometimes results in a paralysis that resembles polio and which can be fatal unless the tick is removed with extreme care.

Suggestion: Smear grease or oil to smother the tick. If this fails, apply the hot end of a match to the tick's rear, or try a tweezer using a steady, gradual pull while attempting to slide a paper beneath it. After removal, sterilize the bite point and vicinity with an antiseptic such as tincture of iodine.

Mites - These are somewhat similar to ticks only smaller. Tiny red mites known as chiggers can cover a person with red, itching bumps, and stay camouflaged and well fed until destroyed. They are prevalent in southern and eastern states.

Suggestion: Effective remedies include rubbing alcohol, camphor, carbolized petroleum jelly, iodine or nail polish.

ODDS ON RAIN

What Does It Mean To You?

Chances are you can use a bit of help in betting on the weather. Perhaps a "scoring system" to make your own evaluation of tomorrow's forecast?

That, in effect, is one of the possibilities being explored by two meteorologists, Prof. Edward S. Epstein and his former research assistant, Allan H. Murphy, in the University of Michigan department of meteorology and oceanography.

The idea, simply, is this: The next best thing to giving each citizen his own scoring system is to devise a method that can help the forecaster improve his own ability to benefit the citizens.

Part of the problem in personalizing a scoring system comes from the way we use forecasts. A farmer, for instance, can balance the cost of preparing for a predicted rain against the possible loss from the rain that may or may not come.

Normally, however, individuals cannot evaluate their actions in terms of dollars and cents. So they must use "utility" values, instead of dollar values, to weigh the worth of possible action. But every man's utility value is different from every other man's.

THE SITUATION, however, is "not impossible since methods can be devised which, at least in part, circumvent this difficulty," Prof. Epstein says. In fact, the scoring system now used by the Weather Bureau is a crude measure of utility averaged over many users.

But, he adds, "if we really knew how the forecasts were used, then better scoring systems could be devised." For instance, different scoring systems may someday be developed for different geographic locations. On one scoring system for a rainy region, another for an arid area, and so on.

At the moment there are unsolved problems in the forecast evaluation itself, Prof. Epstein explains. Considerable controversy still surrounds this topic in meteorological circles.

Other problems are indirectly related to the forecast evaluation. There is, for example, the question of how well the public understands the probability forecasting, a relatively new way of predicting what will probably happen in terms of percentages. It means that if the weatherman gives a 90 per cent chance of rain, the user can reasonably infer that it will rain 90 out of every 100 days for which such a forecast is given.

PROF. EPSTEIN and other experts agree that the probability forecast - based on a complex process involving meteorological data, statistical analyses, and the forecaster's judgment - is a significant advance. Under it, a weather-related decision can be more of a mathematically calculated risk than a blind gamble.

But, Prof. Epstein says, "as is true with many innovations, it has on occasion been subject to misinterpretation, and its value in forecasting has not always been made clear."

The work on the forecast evaluation is only a part of Prof. Epstein's effort to study various ways of telling who or what procedure gives the "best" weather estimates.

One thing appears certain: With such studies by Prof. Epstein and other researchers, it should become easier to win bets on the weather.

State Fair To Have Ear Testing

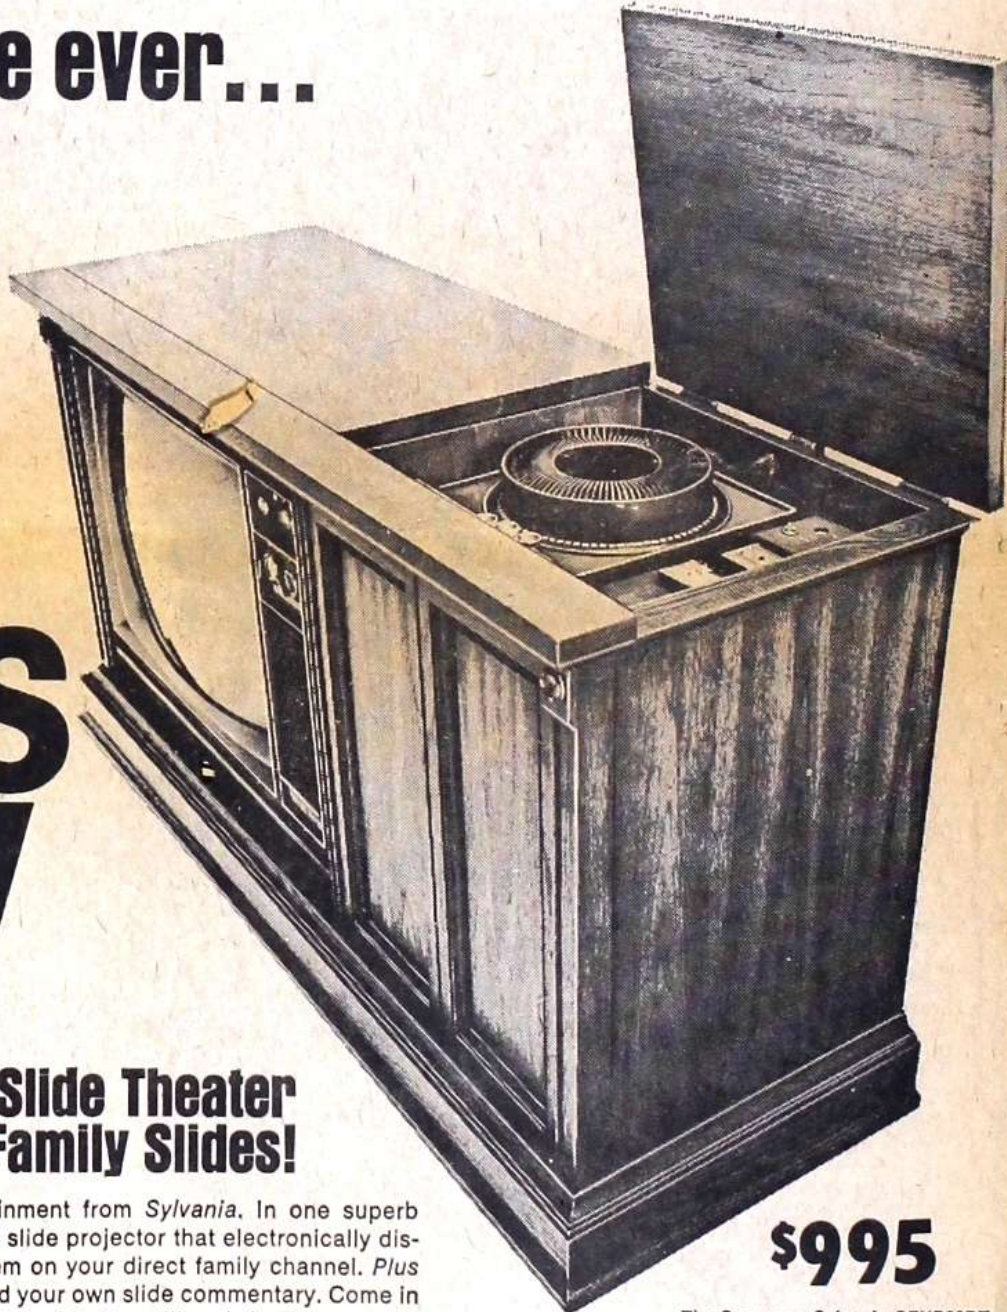

For the ninth consecutive year, the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center will give hearing screening tests to Michigan State Fair visitors.

The Torch Drive Agency will have professional audiologists administering the tests from Aug. 23 through Sept. 2 in the mobile trailer, located at the southwest corner of White Hall.

Van Buren Township

REGULAR MEETING JULY 23, 1968

The meeting opened with pledge of allegiance to the flag. Supervisor Toth called the meeting to order at 8:00 P.M.

Board members present were: Toth, Stoelton, Domick and Payne. Hogan, Birk and Maton were on vacation. Also present were 20 citizens.

Motion Stoelton, support Domick, to approve the minutes of July 9 as presented. Carried unanimously.

Correspondences were read, acknowledged and filed.

Don Cox appeared before the Board with his request of June 25, 1968 and again July 9, 1968 pertaining to five acres on Quirk road, of which he proposes to own and also sand removal at Hannan and Tyler roads. Mr. Cox had asked that the Township stop using the five acres on Quirk Rd., that his decision was not to convey this property to the Township.

Mr. Toth asked Cox if he owned the five-acre parcel to which his answer was that he had a purchase title to the property. At this time Mr. Toth turned over a deed for the five acres to the Township attorney to record. Mr. Cox volunteered the deed is no good. The property at Hannan and Tyler Roads was discussed with Mr. Cox and Mr. Toth said we did not feel we could enter into any kind of a contract for the property, but if Mr. Cox wished to set a price to sell same that the Township and Recreation Commission would consider buying the property in question.

Motion Stoelton, support Domick, that if Mr. Cox is willing to set a price that can be accepted by the Township Board for the aforesaid property that the Board will consider the offer if it can be used in compatibility with what is being done on the adjacent Township property. Carried unanimously.

Mr. Richard Sloan of Detroit, said the five-acre parcel of property on Quirk Road was purchased from Mr. Cox and Roy Short, and the deed is in good standing. Mr. Toth thanked Mr. Sloan for his being at the meeting to clarify the mix-up of the five acres that adjoins the Township's ten acres at Quirk and Tyler Roads.

Motion Stoelton, support Domick, to purchase a Billing machine from Burroughs Corp. for the price of $9,000.49. Roll call vote, carried unanimously.

Motion Payne, support Stoelton, to table the final audit report until the next regular meeting. Carried unanimously.

Motion Stoelton, support Domick, for Stanley Price to attend a Building Inspector's course at Schoolcraft College. Carried unanimously.

Mr. Howard Binkow of Rose Hill Builders proposed a plan for his company to finance a sewer and water line project. The company may build approximately 600 homes at the Northwest corner of Haggerty road and the Expressway. He also said that certificates be given the company to guarantee reimbursement of the cost by the Township when water taps are made in the area.

Motion Domick, support Stoelton, to refer the aforesaid project to the Township, and proposed builders, engineers and attorneys devise a feasible program of what the obligations are of the Township and builders, and report same back to the Board. Carried unanimously.

The Township Planning Commission recommended to the Township Board a zoning change from Light Industrial to Multiple Dwelling for a nursing home on Beck Road south of Tyler as requested by Mr. Gaspar Coccigimiglio. The Wayne County Planning Commission recommended the denial of the re-zoning due to a proposed East, West runway for a major air freight company at the airport. Also a letter from Klemmman Real Estate Inc. was read with many factors concerning the airport. Computer Favors Woman Drivers LANSING--In the age-old battle of the sexes, one of the unresolved questions has been... who are the best drivers, men or women?

Well, a recent computer study conducted by the Michigan Department of State has some bad news for the male driving population and some good news for distaff drivers, said James M. Hare, secretary of state.

The study of 27,662 drivers, a sampling from a cross-section of "A" file drivers, indicates that seven of 10 women have perfect driving records while less than five men out of 10 can boast of unsullied records.

The computer probe involved both accident and violation records ranging back through the past six-year period, Hare said.

"Twenty-three seems the worst age for drivers of both sexes," Hare said. "At age 23, only 19 in 100 male drivers have accident and violation-free records. On the other hand, 60 of each 100 female drivers can boast perfect records at 23."

Records of men begin deteriorating at an earlier age, too, the study showed. Men begin having trouble at 18, Milady, on the other hand, begins her behind-the-wheel decline at 20.

After age 23, records seem to get better for both sexes, although the records of the men never become as good as the women.

Violations are much more prevalent than accidents on both records. Some 88.8 percent of the drivers studied were accident free.

This compares with 59.8 percent of the studied drivers with unblemished point records.

This means, the study concludes, that 11.2 of Michigan's drivers are responsible for all accidents. And 40.2 percent of all drivers account for all violation convictions.

The study made some other revelations.

Of every 100 drivers studied, 96 who are free of violations also own accident-free records. At the one violation level, eight out of 10 drivers are without any accidents.

Males constituted 15,916 of the number of persons studied.

Extended, this would mean that 57.5 percent of the drivers in Michigan are men.

Only two drivers out of the total were involved in five accidents. Only 11 had four, 61 had three mishaps, 409 were involved in two accidents, and 2,601 had one accident on their records.

Five persons had records with more than 36 points. Of these, four were involved in one accident, and the fifth was involved in two mishaps.

Some 421 persons with 12 or more points did not have an accident on their records. Total of 190 others had one accident, while 62 had two accidents, 25 had three accidents, seven had four accidents, and none over 12 points had five accidents.

World's Crack Chutists to Star at Air S how

NOT BIRDS, NOT PLANES — But the world's famed U.S. Army's Golden Knights Parachute Team bursting loose with one of their breathtaking aerial maneuvers after jumping from an airplane at 13,000 feet above the earth. The Golden Knights will stage their heartstopping aerial antics at the Aviation and Space Show at Willow Run on September 14-15 during the three-hour flight demonstration portion of the show.

A TARGET ON THE GROUND
— Dates on the calendar and the magic, mystical world where a man soars through the sky like a bird — this is the United States Army Parachute Team, the "Golden Knights".

Theirs is the story of men who like to jump out of planes, men who test and perfect tactics, equipments and techniques for the skilled paratroopers of today's U.S. Army, men who plunge thousands of feet through the skies every year to bring the story of our modern Army to the nation and the world.

Every location, from San Francisco to Paris, from Alaska to Brazil, means another date for the Knights and every date means that there is a target to be hit.

It all began in October, 1959, when 13 men were brought together at Fort Bragg, N.C., the home of the Army Airborne. This was the Strategic Army Corps Sport Parachute team.

Their dual mission: To promote Army esprit and recruiting and provide highly skilled parachutists for participation in demonstrations and competition in national and international meets.

By the end of June, 1968, the team had performed 915 free-fall demonstrations before over 50-million spectators in 50 states and 17 foreign countries. All told, the eight officers and 44 enlisted men now authorized on the team roster have made over 5,000 static line and an amazing 75,000 plus free-fall parachute jumps. Total jumps for all-time are over 80,000.

Men of the U.S. Army Parachute team are recognized the world over as being the finest in the realm of competitive parachuting. The Golden Knights now hold 87 of the 128 Men's Precision Parachuting Records established by the Federation of Aeronautique International. In the past seven years they have not only produced two World Parachuting Champions, but five U.S. National Champions and one Helms Foundation Sport Parachute Athlete of the Year.

The unit, formed in 1959, became the United States Army Parachute Team in 1961, were nicknamed the "Golden Knights" in 1962. Along with designation as an official Army Team, an additional mission of Research and Development in tactical applications for free-fall parachuting was assigned.

Employment Falls Slightly For Month

LANSING--"With automobile model changeover operations underway in many plants, July non-farm employment in Michigan fell nearly 48,000, to 3,105,300, during the 30-day period ending July 15," Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr., Director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said today.

"Most of the employment drop occurred in manufacturing, particularly in the automobile and supplier plants. Government employment also fell as state and local educational institutions entered the summer vacation period. Only minor changes occurred in private non-manufacturing, with small ups or downs in the various industries.

"By mid-July, unemployment in the State rose by about 12,000, to 202,000, or 5.9 percent of the labor force. The number of unemployed youth declined somewhat, however, from the very high level of June," he said.

The increase in unemployment was relatively small by comparison with the decline in employment, since the labor force normally contracts somewhat at this time of year. Many teachers, for example, travel during the summer months or continue their studies leading to advance degrees.

What are they like -- these men who plunge through the skies? Why do they do it, the long free falls, the aerobatics? Is it because they are attuned to the whole idea of making the Army image brighter in the minds of civilian and military spectators thousands of feet below?

They are every bit of this... and more!

One of every two is a veteran of either the Korean or Vietnam War. Many are both military and Federal Aviation Administration qualified parachute riggers. To be considered as a jumper on the team, a man has at least 200 free-falls for a starter. Other requirements are an excellent

Some will move silently under their own steam or electric power. The internal combustion models will chug about coughing back at those who are moved to shout, "Get a horse!"

The relatively new 1917-1925 vehicles will be the highlight of the first day's activity. All of the older "horseless carriages" will take to the field on Sunday, Sept. 8.

Old Car Festival at Village

DEARBORN--The sparkling machines will line up three abreast, a starter will signal, and they will sprint away from the starting line toward -- a balloon. The object is to burst the balloon by running over it.

Two or three more balloons await before the car crosses the finish line about 100 yards from where the race started.

But it's not as easy as it may sound because the cars' tires are so thin. That's because all cars in the balloon race and other contests were built before 1925.

The competition is part of the excitement that takes place Sept. 7-8 at the Old Car Festival at Greenfield Village.

While some vehicles are involved in races, others will

Hearing Tests At State Fair

DETROIT--The Detroit Hearing and Speech Center will give hearing screening tests to Michigan State Fair visitors.

The Torch Drive Agency will have professional audiologists administering the tests from Aug. 23 through Sept.

Of the 3205 men, women and children tested at last year's fair, more than 700 showed some hearing loss.

American Motors Brings Out Five New Lines of Autos

DETROIT — Five separate lines of new 1969 automobiles embodying hundreds of improvements and refinements designed for maximum consumer satisfaction were announced by American Motors Corp.

They include the high-performance record breaking two-seat AMX, the sporty Javelin, the compact Rambler (formerly Rambler American), the rugged, all-around Rebel and the luxury Ambassador.

William S. Pickett, vice-president of sales, said the Ambassador line, designed to fill a market gap between the top intermediate and standard-sized cars, has the most pronounced changes. The Ambassador, with an entirely new and distinctive front end, has a wheelbase of 122 inches, 4 inches greater than last year, and its track has been widened to a full 60 inches, providing much-improved riding comfort and stability, he said.

Across-the-line changes and improvements found in all 1969 AM cars include the addition of head restraints as standard equipment; a smooth cable-controlled accelerator system with a suspended pedal; a new smaller, lighter battery with a translucent polypropylene case; parking lights which remain on with headlights, and new Guard-Glo safety headlamps, featuring a stand-by filament.

American Motors' newest line, the sporty, two-seat AMX which was introduced in the spring of 1968, will offer all-leather upholstery as an option. An improved four-speed close-ratio transmission and improved tachometers will be standard on the '69 AMX.

Air conditioning, standard on all Ambassadors, has increased capacity and improved air distribution for 1969. AM air conditioning units will be capable of dropping inside temperature on Ambassador and Rebel models considerably faster than units previously used.

The increase in the length of the Ambassador applies both to its wheel-base and its overall length, giving it the longest wheelbase of the high-line intermediates. The wheelbase is increased to 122 inches, and the overall length to 206.5 inches for sedans and 207 inches for station wagons.

AM's modern powerplant collection includes three six-cylinder engines and five V-8's, with a horsepower range from 128 to 315. The 290-cubic inch two-barrel V-8 is standard on the Ambassador SST, with the 290-cubic inch four-barrel V-8 standard on the AMX. Sixes are standard on all other models.

Ambassador and Rebel station wagons will offer as standard equipment Dual-Swing tailgates which can be lowered in the conventional way or swung open from the side, like a door.

With the exception of the Rambler, all 1969 models will offer as optional a new ventilation system called "Command Air." It consists of a high-capacity three-speed blower which forces air through normal air conditioning outlets.

Standard safety features on all 1969 American Motors cars include double safety brakes, seat belts for all passenger positions, shoulder belts for driver and right front seat passenger, energy-absorbing steering column, padded dash and visors, left outside rear view mirror and front seat head restraints.

This year, take the vacation you thought you couldn't take.

Take a week in Miami, $150.50.

We make it easy to get there too. With the only Super DC-8 service there—non-stop every morning at 10 o'clock.

There's more to Miami than great sun, sand and surf. When you want to go out on the town, there's a lot of town to go out on. Miami swings. And almost anyone can swing the cost of a vacation there.

Low summer prices mean that you can take a Miami vacation for about as much money as you spent last year at the lake.

the shore or the cottage.

For instance, on Eastern's exclusive Miami Beach Party vacation, you can spend 7 days there for only $150.50 a person, including your hotel and roundtrip air fare.

And if you like, you can even change the whole thing on Eastern's Charge-A-Trip plan.

See a Travel Agent. Or call Eastern day or night at 965-8200. And take the vacation you thought you couldn't take.

Check for periods of validity. Charge-A-Trip is a service mark.

It's A Fact: 1968 Is Year Of Tigers and Coho, Too

To baseball fans, 1968 is the "Year of the Tiger", but to thousands of Michigan anglers who intend to catch that big one, it is the "Year of the Coho."

Trophy-hungry fishermen first have to locate that big one. The most likely place to find a record-size salmon is Lake Michigan, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

Coho generally run smaller in Lake Superior than in sister lakes because of the very cold water and less abundant food supply. Trophy-size Coho will not begin to appear in Lake Huron until fall, 1969.

Detailed mapping of coho movements is not now possible since the salmon is new to Michigan waters.

The accompanying Auto Club map shows where fishing is expected to be best and what rivers and streams have been stocked.

Coho can be found where there is an ample supply of food and the water temperature ranges between 52 and 57 degrees. They feed on alewives in Lakes Michigan and Huron and smelt and herring in Lake Superior.

It was the vast winter movements of alewives to southern Lake Michigan that attracted the salmon to the Chicago shore. Even in late April, schools of coho were near Chicago.

In May, the coho began moving along the Michigan as well as Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin shorelines. By mid-June, the Coho moved north to Grand Haven.

From now until late September, the largest concentration of coho in Lake Michigan will be found off the mouths of streams where the now giant salmon were first released as smolts by the Conservation Department in Spring, 1967.

Prior to spawning runs, coho are found where their food supply is best.

Except for a possible jack run in the lower Au Sable, the Conservation Department expects minor coho activity in Lake Huron this fall. Smolts were released into five Lake Huron streams this Spring, and mature fish from this planting cannot be expected until next fall. Besides the Au Sable, plantings were made in the Ocqueoc, Thunder Bay, Tawas Rivers and in the Upper Peninsula, the Carp River.

Lake Huron salmon will concentrate as far south as Saginaw Bay beginning in May of 1969. Next July and August they are expected to divide into schools and mass for fall spawning in the rivers where they were planted.

Coho enthusiasts can expect spotty catches in Lake Superior late this summer and early this fall.

This is because smelt, the coho's main diet, are in deep water after spring spawning, and the coho follow. Also, unlike Lakes Michigan and Huron, Lake Superior water is cold and coho feed is less abundant. These two factors are responsible for the coho running smaller in size here than in Lake Michigan.

Coho were planted for the first time last spring in the following areas: West Michigan (Lake Michigan) — Big Manistee, Boardman, Whitefish, Pere Marquette, Bear, Boyne and Muskegon Rivers; East Michigan (Lake Huron) — Au Sable, Thunder Bay, Ocqueoc, Tawas and Carp Rivers; Upper Peninsula (Lake Superior) — Anna, Falls, Ontonagon and Sucker Rivers and Cherry Creek.

Huron Names Athletic Director

RON SMITH TO HEAD DEPARTMENT

Ron Smith, who for the past eight years has coached baseball and at one time headed the football program at Huron High, is the school's new athletic director.

The appointment was made official last week.

Smith, a 30-year-old graduate of Eastern Michigan University where he earned his degree in education, has been coaching and teaching at Huron since 1960. He is presently working towards his masters in administration.

Huron, which has approximately a student population of 400 has been handicapped in the past because of a lack of facilities. From their original bond issue, however, the school will soon have a new football field, an all-weather track with lighting facilities.

A member of the Lake Shore Conference the past few years, Huron will compete this year in the expanded Huron Conference with some of its old rivals — Mason, Carlson, Monroe, and will also face Blissfield, Grosse Ile, Airport, Tecumseh, Flat Rock and Monroe Catholic Central in the new league.

"We have had many problems in the past," said Smith, "and the major one, of course, was the lack of athletic facilities. But I feel that problem is being resolved and now we must get to the business of organizing our programs."

"I feel we have plenty of talent and school spirit to make this school one of the finest in the state," he said.

Huron will compete in the four major sports — football, basketball, track and baseball, and the new athletic director says he hopes to inaugurate a cross country program if he can find a coach."

Married to Kathryn, the Smiths have two children, Kelly, 5 and Robin 3½.

ON THE OUTSIDE

Ducks, Start Ducking

by TOM ISLEY
Outdoors Editor

It may seem a little early yet to be thinking of the duck hunting season which doesn't come around until the first week of October but it's not too early for the real enthusiasts to start planning.

Digging out those old decoys from the back of the garage and getting them untangled, dusted off and ready for a little touch-up paint job is one of the items high on the priority list of duck hunters. A little tip for those of you who have done this yet might be to putty up those little pellet holes with plastic wood before you get to the painting part of the job. Also take time out to check the strings and make sure they're ready to do good service come October. There is nothing more exasperating than to have to chase down a loose decoy once you're comfortably situated in the blind. Make sure the strings aren't frayed or the knots loose either on the anchors or the decoys and avoid a problem that can be frustrating this fall.

One of the things it is not advisable to do, if you decide the decoys could use a little touch-up paint job, is to use any kind of paint that has a high gloss finish. Make sure the paint is a flat finish which will have a non-glare quality. Nothing tips a flight of ducks off more to a phony setup quicker than a reflection off the backs of decoys painted with glossy paint. The decoys may look nice and pretty but the ducks won't buy them for one minute. One quick pass-over at 60 to 70 miles an hour (well above shotgun range) is all they need to spot a bad paint job, even if the sun isn't shining.

The dull finish which is most desirable on your duck decoys is hard enough to achieve but even with it success is sometimes limited because when the decoys are wet, light reflections can still scare away the flight on the first time around just as if you had flashing red lights set on the water.

By all means don't be tempted to use a shellac or varnish on the decoys which gives everything away in an attempt to preserve a nice paint job.

It really isn't too early for a check right now to see how your decoys look and do any prep work that may be necessary for the season which opens at the end of next month.

UNWINDING — Hawkeye hurler Dan Smith finishes his toss in a crucial game with the Wildcats last week. That game ended with Smith and his teammates falling at the short end of a 4-3 decision and losing the Babe Ruth title.

HAVOC OF GREAT LAKES

Lamprey Never Licked

The sea lamprey which originally ruined Great Lakes sport and commercial fishing will never be totally wiped out, and must constantly be pursued. That's one of the hard facts in a film report on "The Michigan Sportsman" Saturday, August 31, at 6:30 P.M. on WXYZ-TV, and the following Wednesday at 7:00 P.M. on the Sportsman Network, WKZO-TV, WNEM-TV, WWTW and WWUP-TV.

The program is a repeat for three of the network stations, but will be seen for the first time on WXYZ-TV and WNEM-TV. It was pre-empted by special programming on the Detroit station, and the Saginaw station had not yet joined the network when it was originally shown. Jerry Chiappetta, "Michigan Sportsman" host, feels the original telecast may have helped Michigan's lamprey program by exposing the facts just before a cutback in lamprey funds was to go into effect. The State came up with the money shortly thereafter.

"Sportsman" cameras follow a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service team as they treat the Pere Marquette River with lampricide. This is one of the Great Lakes rivers where the lamprey spawns. The young grows in the mud for 7 to 11 years before coming out, in the final year of its life, to suck the blood and life from Great Lakes gamefish. Because the eggs and young lie in the mud so long, a continuing program of control is essential.

Although coming under control in other lakes, the Lake Huron program is just beginning — and is crucial to survival of Coho salmon, also being introduced into Huron streams for the first time.

Chiappetta's film shows hundreds of dead lamprey rising to the surface, proof of the program's importance — and effectiveness.

Mike Clark, Wayne State University's second-baseball from Royal Oak Kimball, set a school batting record in 1966 as a freshman by accumulating 40 total bases on his safeties.

Students in grades 10 through 12 are urged to gather in the school gym.

All participating athletes at Romulus High School are reminded that their physicals will be on Thurs., Aug. 22 at 10 a.m. and on Fri., Aug. 24 at 3 p.m. at the school.

Slow Pitch Tourney

SOUTHGATE — Four of the nation's best slow-pitch teams, including Little Caesar's, the 1966 World Champs and runnerup in 1967, will compete in Southgate's Pre-National Slow-Pitch Tournament next week.

The tourney is slated for Aug. 23 through 25th at John F. Kennedy Field in Southgate. Teams representing Kentucky, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Michigan have accepted the invitation to compete.

Tickets for the three-day meet are 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children per day. Fans also can purchase a package deal — getting tickets for the three days at $1.50 and 75 cents for adults and children, respectively.

Tickets may be purchased at all Little Caesar Pizza Parlors, the Southgate Recreation Offices, Southgate Sports Center and Longtin TV in Southgate.

Inquiries at Data Centers Hit Records

Three records for serving travelers topped in July and early August at the eight travel information centers operated by the State Highway Commission.

The Commission said 209,098 persons stopped at the centers in July, topping the previous monthly high of 204,628 in August, 1967, and the previous high for July of 202,118, also established in 1967.

A seven-day record was also set in the week ending Aug. 3 when 52,883 travelers stopped for information. The previous high was 50,061 in the week ending Aug. 12, 1967.

MORE THAN 100,000 travelers were served at the centers in June, also a record.

At this rate, the Commission said, it is possible that 800,000 or more travelers will stop at the centers in 1968, exceeding last year's high by about 100,000.

The information centers are on principal highways at New Buffalo, Ironwood, Mackinaw City, Clare, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Menominee and Monroe, and another will be opened this month on Interstate 69 near Coldwater.

Space Flight Film on UF Services Is Free And Available

Cachets Readied

Manned Spacecraft Recovery Forces of the U.S. Navy will again provide collectors with first - day cachet and cancellation services for the upcoming Apollo 7 manned space flight.

Philatelic coordinators designated for the U.S. Atlantic and Pacific Fleet Recovery Forces (Task Force 140 and 130) will receive all such envelopes and make the distribution to assigned ships.

To permit adequate time for required handling of Atlantic ship covers, collectors should air mail pre - stamped, self - addressed envelopes to arrive at Norfolk prior to September, 1968.

DUE TO the popularity of this service and the limited postal facilities aboard recovery ships, no more than eight covers can be accepted from each individual collector. Collectors may send an additional four covers to Task Force 130, the Pacific Recovery Force.

The following are addresses for the Atlantic and Pacific area coordinators:

TASK FORCE 140: Public Affairs Office (Apollo 7) Manned Spacecraft Recovery Force, Atlantic Building SP - 71, Naval Air Station, Norfolk, Virginia 23511

TASK FORCE 130: Chief - in - Charge (Apollo 7), Navy Terminal Post Office, FPO San Francisco, Calif. 96610.

No matter where you live in Western Wayne County, one of the FIVE Associated Newspapers is the official legal publication of your community!

WHAT DOES THIS DESIGNATION MEAN?

TO YOU

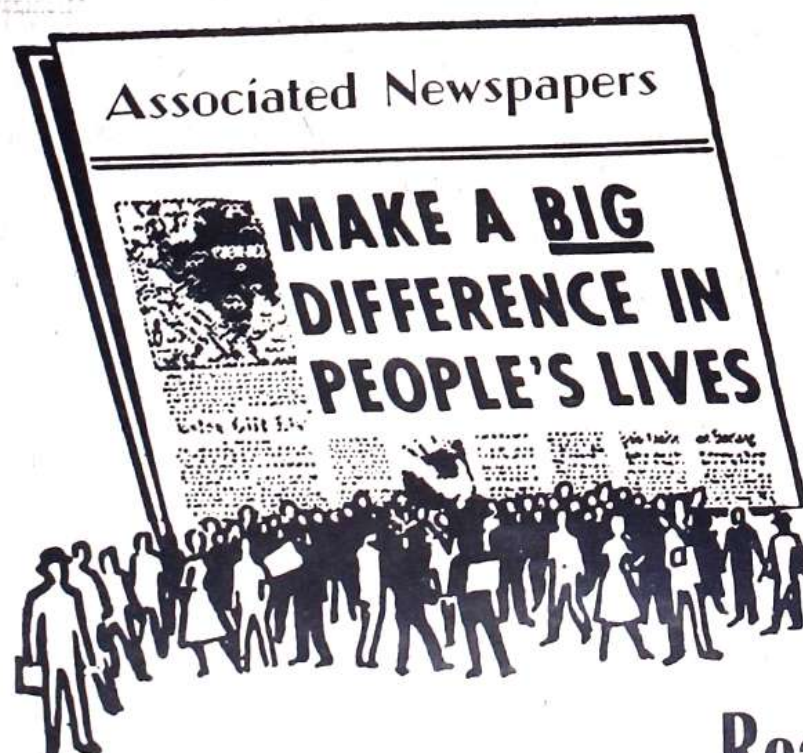

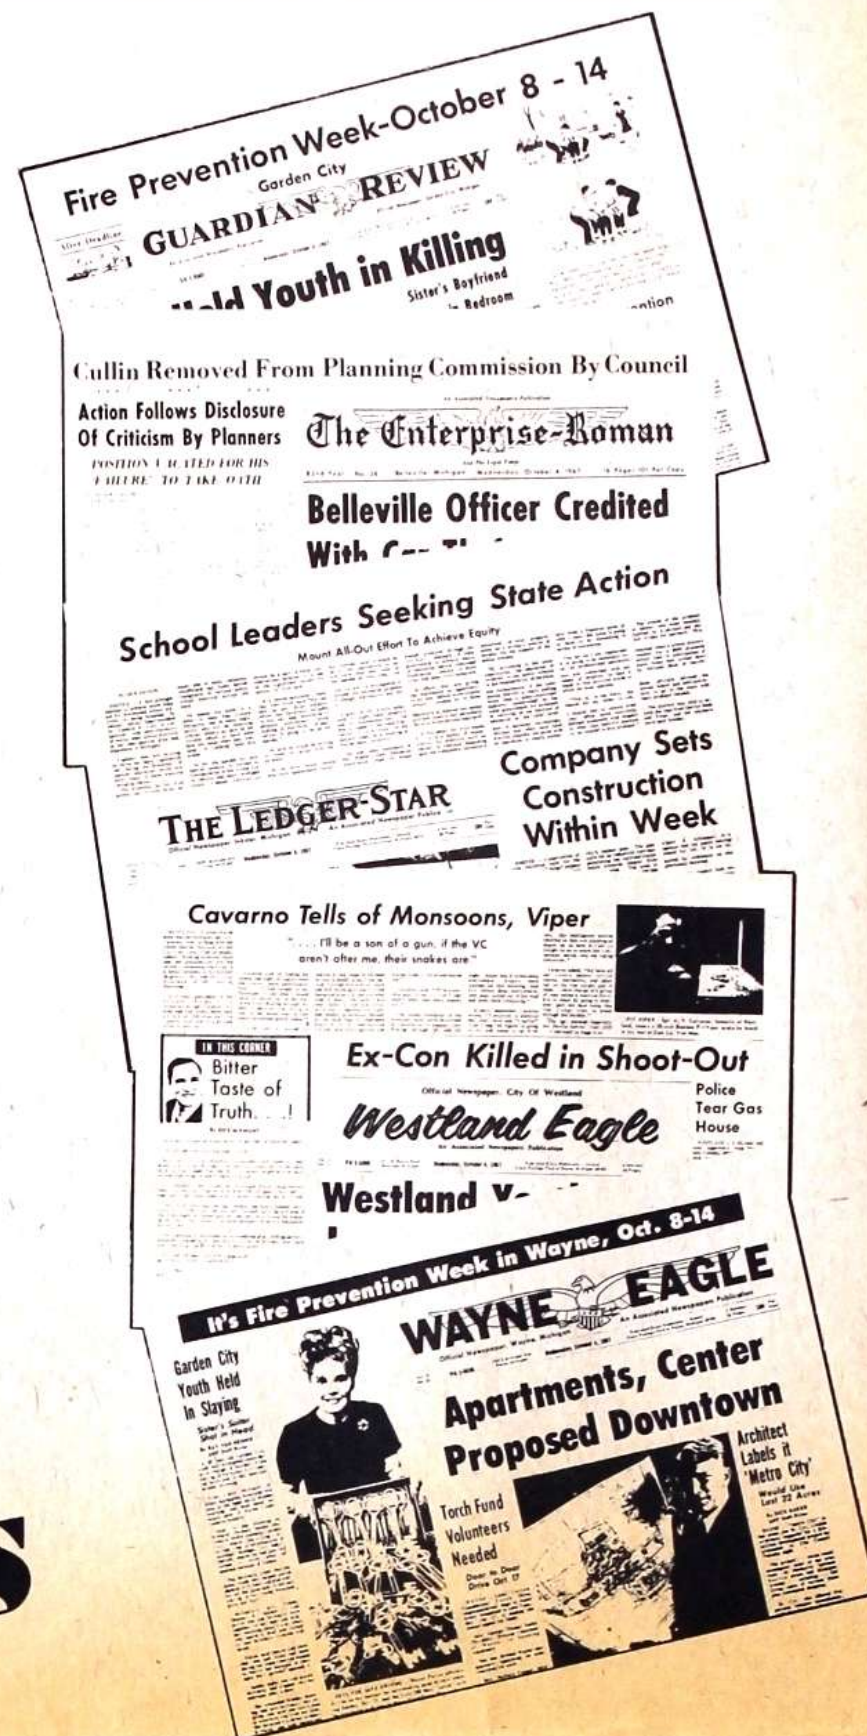

It means that ONLY in an Associated Newspaper can you find the official actions of the various governmental bodies in your community. Western Wayne County is on the move. . . it's a vigorous, progressive area. New zoning ordinances are being approved . . . planning commissions are making decisions that may affect you and your property . . . your city council or township board may pass special assessments. . . changes are being considered in tax procedures. . . election details are vital. It is important you know of these varied actions--many of them affect you and your neighbors. And remember--ONLY in an Associated Newspaper can you read the "Official Proceedings!"

TO US

This means the governmental unit responsible for selecting an official publication in each community has demonstrated deep respect for the Associated Newspapers by awarding them this designation. This has been true not just this year but for many years in most of Western Wayne County areas. We are genuinely appreciative for this expression of confidence!

Van Buren School Board Minutes

REGULAR MEETING

June 11, 1968
The Regular Meeting of the Van Buren Public Schools' Board of Education was held in the Belleville High School Library at 8:00 p.m. on June 11, 1968.

Members present were Muse, Hopka, Baldwin, Schweigert, Bole and Williams. Also present were Superintendent Wetherell and Business Manager Egan.
President Bole appointed Muse as Secretary Pro tem in the absence of Board Secretary Hay.

The minutes of the regular meeting of May 13, 1968 and of special meetings May 22, 23 and 27, 1968 were read and approved.

After reviewing the bills for May, 1968, it was moved by Baldwin, and supported by Williams, that said bills be paid. Motion carried.

Mr. Dale Howell came before the Board to express his negative feelings regarding corporal punishment administered to his son by Mr. Hidenfelter. Since the matter had been previously resolved, no further action was taken.

A request was heard from the Van Buren Little League Association to use six or seven school buses for transporting Little League players to the Detroit Tigers' baseball game on July 6, 1968. The Van Buren Little League Association to arrange for the buses and the authorized drivers. After discussion, it was moved by Hopka, and supported by Baldwin, to grant request. Motion carried.

Elementary Supervisor Gray presented the Board with a request for Special Education bus runs during the summer of 1968 for ten weeks at a total estimated cost of $450.00. Baldwin, as chairman of the Belleville Kiwanis Club Children's Committee, volunteered financial assistance from the service club. Muse, a member of the Belleville Rotary Club, volunteered that Club's financial help also. Arrangements are to be worked out between the two clubs and Mr. Gray.

SPORTS MERIDIAN

Department was hard pressed to find someone to coach these kids?

That this team, representing Wayne, must come up with $90 in order to go to the State Tourney because the Rec Department hasn't the funds to send the team?

That this team has produced such outstanding athletes like Frank Fisher who played for Wayne Memorial and who recently signed with the Detroit Tigers?

Did you know, Mr. Mooradian, that the Cubs have a pitcher presently, Art Mach, who hurled seven straight shutouts and six no-hit games, including a "perfect game" and has an ERA of .000 this season?

I wish you could come out and speak to these boys personally and individually. They're all swell. They give me and others hope in our country's future and believe me when I see these kids I'm convinced we "are NOT a sick society that these kids are living proof that we are a physically, mentally and morally healthy society."

I realize that you are a very busy person that you cover a wide area and I enjoy reading you each week.

But if you can find the time come out to meet us, we would enjoy having you among us. Oh, yes, please place the Cubs - for the records - into your winners' circle, Mr. Mooradian, they have earned it!

Thank You,
A Baseball Fan

Answer To Baseball Fan

Dear Baseball Fan,

You're right - these kids really look like winners. And I wish them and their manager, John Horshok, all the luck up at Jackson.

We sports editors, and writers, or whatever you want to call us (and we have been called by every name in and out of the book) have problems. (Don't we all). There's too much to cover and not enough to cover it with; too many of you and not enough of us.

But there is also another problem - the lack of communication.

Like Joe Sparma - I'm a very sensitive person. I feel that when I'm doing a good job I should stay on the mound and continue to pitch. But what if I'm not given the opportunity, i.e., what if I'm not sent out to the mound?

Then what?

The managers of these Little League, Babe Ruth, Class C, B.A. teams say they're busy, busy, busy and don't have the time to phone in the needed information to write the stories; the recreation departments, which organize most of these leagues, are understaffed, understaffed, and understaffed and in most cases don't have the time to put together the score-sheets and send them out to us so that we can write the stories!

The result is - POOR OVERALL COVERAGE.
This lack of communication between managers, players, rec department and sports editors leads, inadvertently, to bickering (there's a much better word than that) by fans, parents and others and robs those who are worthy of newspaper coverage.

All I can say is that if I were a coach (and I have coached basketball for over 15 years) I would contact the sports editor (or whomever is responsible) and make sure that some sort of system was set up so that my team received adequate coverage - win-lose-or-draw.

Now, how's that for passing the buck, Mr. Baseball Fan?

Hamilton Fund Shows Capital Gains

DENVER, August 5 - Hamilton Funds, Inc. sold the securities of 12 companies for $114.9 million, realizing $24.6 million in capital gains in the first half of 1968, shareholders were informed in the semi-annual report of the Fund dated June 30. The Fund also bought stocks of 20 other companies for $100.5 million. Sales were concentrated for the most part in high-technology firms, paper companies and metals; purchases were in the general areas of financial institutions, consumer non-durables and conglomerates, the report said. Total net assets increased more than $30 million, from $644.2 million to $674.4 million. Growth came both from an overall increase in the value of portfolio securities and from cash coming into the Fund from investors.

IN ADDITION, distributions of 5.5 cents per share from net undistributed income - a total of $6.4 million - were declared for payment to shareholders. Due to fluctuations in the stock market during the first half of the year, shareholders who invested on a regular basis were given an opportunity to buy shares at relatively low prices, the value of shares later rising significantly, the report said.

Hamilton Management Corporation, a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, is investment advisor and distributor of Hamilton Funds, Inc., one of the 15 largest mutual funds in the United States. Its shares are distributed in 48 states and 28 foreign areas.

Area Mental Health Board Gets Funds

The Detroit-Wayne county Mental Health Services Board has been allotted $4,756,780 by the state to help support a matchable program totalling $7,480,868. William H. Anderson, M.D., Director of Michigan Department of Mental Health, reported.

Nearly $20 million in operating funds will go into community mental health services during the current fiscal year in 37 counties which have established mental health boards under Act 54 (1963), the local-state cost sharing plan, he added.

The state appropriation of $10.9 million has been allotted by the Michigan Department of Mental Health on a 75 per cent matching basis for specific local services. Local and federal funds, along with fees for services, will provide additional revenue for community mental health programs.

Judge Raps State On 'Passing' Signs

By ELMER E. WHITE

Dragging its feet would be an improvement over present movements of the Michigan State Highway Department in erecting "no passing zone" signs on the left side of highways. This is the opinion of Midland Municipal Judge Henry Hart who has begun a one-man campaign to improve the warning system for motorists.

Judge Hart points out present do - not - pass signs do not provide sufficient visibility or the motorist. Vision may be obstructed by vehicles head. Motorists, when passing, must look to the left lane, now plows throw snow to the right. He maintains that the only "logical" place for the signs is on the left side of the highway.

Studies conducted by the highway department, as well as those in other states, agree with his logic; the trouble is, no one except Judge Hart does anything about it!

Two test locations in Michigan proved that driver attention to the no passing signs was improved with special pennant - shaped signs mounted on the left.

The improved signs have been used in Iowa for some time, and other states are ready to adopt the system. Judge Hart wonders out loud why Michigan drivers do not receive the same service.

Highway department officials agree the signs are effective, but they question whether accidents on hills and curves are reduced by their use. Harold Cooper, director of the traffic division, doesn't think so.

Officials also feared loss of federal highway funds since left side erection was "non - conforming." Iowa, which did not wait for federal approval and just installed the signs, did not lose funds.

State police favor the new signs and cite traffic violations as well as accident reductions as influencing factors. Sgt. Donald Calcaterra, traffic analyst, said state police records for 1967 show 617 accidents occurred on curves and 1,769 occurred on hills. Improper passing violations were recorded as causing 9,275 accidents in 1967. Reports of other law enforcement agencies are not included in the totals.

Sgt. Calcaterra recalls earlier service at the Gaylord post, which wrote more tickets for passing violations than any other post in the state. In 1960 - 61, the new system was installed on old U.S. 27. "Our citations fell to practically nothing," Sgt. Calcaterra stated.

Cost of implementing the system state - wide has been estimated at $175,000 to $250,000. Cooper states if the system were adopted, installation would occur only at "selected locations," not throughout the entire state.

What is needed, the judge maintains, is enough people demanding the change to force the highway department to get off its present location and begin installation.

FARM JOBS paying as much as $500 per month plus such fringe benefits as free housing have gone begging in Michigan during the past year, reports the MESC. The condition is a comparatively new development which began about 1963.

That year the average pay for agricultural workers was $210 per month for married men, $108 per month for single men, excluding fringe benefits. By 1966, pay for married men had increased to $311 per month and $139 for single men. The figures represented a 47 and 28 percent increase respectively.

To compete with factory jobs and city employers, farmers have upgraded salaries, housing facilities and fringe benefits. Current figures of $500 per month for married men and $260 for single employers reflect this pressure, the MESC says. The move should improve the situation in the long run and relieve the manpower shortage within the foreseeable future.

KIDNEY VICTIM'S LIFELINE - Joseph E. Perrow, 32, of 1407 Buckingham, Lincoln Park, is among the victims of kidney failure who depend for life on Wayne County General Hospital's artificial kidney center, largest in the Midwest and one of the three largest in the nation. The hospital is one of many Wayne County facilities. Six years ago, Perrow was told he had only three years to live. Thanks to the treatment he receives twice weekly at Wayne County General, he now works steadily at McLouth Steel Corp. and is raising a family of five children.

Oldster Needs Same Nutrition as Teenager

Older people need the same nutrients as the child or young adult - the only difference is the amount.

Mrs. June L. Sears, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Wayne and Oakland counties, says that as age advances, decreased activity reduces the requirement for fats and sugars.

"Excess calories become excess fat," the home economist emphasizes, "and obesity increases the risk of ailments that can torment and actually shorten life after 60 by 50 per cent."

BUT HIGH quality proteins such as those found in meat and eggs are still essential to the senior citizen's diet, she says. So are the vitamins and minerals supplied by fruits and vegetables.

Lack of appetite, faulty digestion and dentures can inhibit proper nutritional habits among older persons. Making mealtime more pleasant by sharing it with friends, eating out occasionally or listening to the radio can help whet the appetite.

Aviation and Space Show to Exhibit 'Nasa Story'

An exciting new exhibit, THE NASA STORY, will be on display at the NATIONAL AVIATION AND SPACE EXPOSITION at Willow Run Airport, Sept. 14 and 15, 1968. James V. Votta, executive vice-president of the Michigan Aeronautics and Space Association and General Manager of the Exposition, announced this week.

The remarkable accomplishments of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in its brief nine year history is unmatched in this nation's history. NASA has made a record of which all Americans can take great pride. The NASA exhibit will be a highlight of the 1968 Exposition," Votta said.

The "NASA STORY" exhibit provides a theatre atmosphere with color slide and tape sound track in a circular 18' diameter by 13' high display. Subjects covered include communication and meteorological satellites, moon photographs, an X15 flight, and astronauts on actual missions.

In addition, models of the Mercury spacecraft, the Gemini spacecraft, the Apollo spacecraft, plus the Lunar Module will be exhibited.

THE ONE-MAN mercury spacecraft was the vehicle in which John H. Glenn, Jr., became the first American to orbit the earth on Feb. 10, 1962.

The two-man Gemini series got underway on April 8, 1964, and ended on Nov. 15, 1966, scoring a number of "firsts," such as rendezvous and docking in space and extra-vehicular activity or "space walking."

The Apollo spacecraft is the spacecraft in which the astronauts will fly to the moon and back.

"Depending upon NASA training and flight schedules at the time, we are hopeful that an astronaut will also attend the 1968 Exposition," Votta said.

Three of NASA's astronauts have made appearances before the membership of MASA in the past according to Votta. Astronaut Don F. Eisele in 1965, Astronaut Michael A. Collins in 1966, and Astronaut James A. McDevitt in 1967. McDevitt received MASA'S "Pilot Proficiency Award" in 1967. The award was presented by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker.

IN ADDITION to the NASA exhibit are approximately 200,000 sq. ft. of indoor and outdoor exhibits and more than three hours of aerial demonstrations each day.

The Michigan Aeronautics and Space Association (formerly the Aero Club of Michigan) is America's oldest state-wide aviation organization, having been organized in 1909. Both Orville and Wilbur Wright are listed as charter members.

Tickets to the Exposition are available at all J.L. Hudson and Grinnell stores; also at BSDUS Flight Service and McGrath Flying School, both at the Willow Run Airport. Reserved box seat tickets must be purchased in advance.

Florian is On 2 Weeks Training

BELLEVILLE - Major Raymond J. Florian, member of the United States Army Reserve, is presently on active duty for two weeks at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

As a member of the 309th Civil Affairs Group he trains the third weekend of each month at the USAR Center on Beech-Daly Road in Inkster.

The first week of training is spent in the field on bivouac at which time soldiers learn and review various basic military skills. During the second week the unit, along with several other civil affairs organizations in the 5th Army Area, takes part in Exercise "Strong Block IV."

The exercise is an attempt to have civil affairs units conduct operations under conditions similar to what would be encountered in a military theater.

Major Florian is assigned as Displaced Persons Officer in the unit. In civilian life Major Florian is a teacher of the Taylor Township School System.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have six children and live in 14440 Elwell Road.

Who's Who Lists Jahr

BELLEVILLE - A Belleville student has been selected for inclusion in the 1968-69 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

He is Jonathan Jahr of 45281 Harmony Lane. He was one of 20 Northern Michigan University students listed.
